OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.,
Sept. 29.—Before sundown today a federal court jury will begin deliberations in the Urschel abduction trial, the government's first concerted effort to stamp out the vicious kidnaping racket which has swept a wave of terror over the nation.
The jury's verdict in the case of the ten defendants, who include Harvey Bailey and Albert Bates, two of the most notorious desperadoes in the country, will be reached by the Roosevelt administration in its militant crusade to beat back the forces of the underworld.

The Acid Test
It is the acid test, or, as Joseph B.
Keenan, assistant United States attorney general from Washington, declared to the jury, "the cross roads" which is to determine whether "we have a government of law and order or a government of lawlessness and chaos."
After the various government and defense lawyers have completed their closing arguments to the jury
today, Federal Judge Edgar S.
Vaughn will deliver extensive instructions to the jury. It will be the first time in federal jurisprudence

PA NEW OBSERVES

The new postoffice building is growing like a weed in the rain. It is getting higher and higher every day. The materials and workmen are transported to the top of the steel framework by means of an elevator at the southeast end.
A black and white checkerboard design has been painted on the cement abutments in the center of the east and west ends of the West Washington street bridge and will help some in the avoidance of collisions there.
Five or six local women went for a night horseback ride on the Troop

One of the Troop F horses, "Til-good care in her warm and comfortable stall. Seems to enjoy being a "special."

State May Spend Big Sum On Roads

Expect Many Projects Will Be Carried Out In Lawrence County

AWAIT RELEASE OF
FEDERAL ROAD FUND

According to information received by H. W. Lightner, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways here, the state expects to spend a considerable sum of money in Lawrence county on road projects, as soon as the money is made available from federal funds allotted for this purpose.
Mr. Lightner expects the coming winter to be one of the busiest that he has experienced here.
In addition to road projects out in the county, he expects that funds will be made available for repaving of Washington street, work on which was started this spring, but interrupted by the exhaustion of funds for this purpose, along with other similar projects in the city.
This would give employment to a great number of men, Mr. Lightner stated.

"One could not expect the other carriers to compete for business with a scale of class rates 10, 15 or 20 cents per 100 pounds higher than that maintained by the Pennsylvania, which is substantially the result of this present proposal."

Plans Announced.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Plans for the establishment of store-door collection and delivery of less than carload freight in large eastern metropolitan centers were announced today by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Within distances of 260 miles, collection and delivery of less than carload freight will be made on request at no extra charge in addition to the present rail rates. Beyond 260 miles a sliding scale of rates will be in effect. The plan will become operative as soon as tariffs have been approved by federal and state authorities.

Tom Williams, also of Harnmarville, at one time a tin worker in New Castle, was the next speaker. He cautioned the men against any acts of violence and of the dangers of doing any drinking while this trouble is on. He lauded the purpose of the United Mine Workers and said that with this organization back of them the miners could be sure of decent treatment and proper working conditions. He invited all of the men at the meeting to go to Centerville, Pa., Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, when he said there would be a monster demonstration.

Joe Cesnik of Russellton, Pa., and Frostburg, Md., spoke of conditions in the southwestern Pennsylvania mines and said that without a checkweighman at the weigh office the miners were not getting paid for what they mined. He also urged the men to stick to this "holiday" and predicted victory if they would stick till the finish.

Following the speakers a number of miners signed the application cards of the U. M. W. local 6570, recently organized in the district. There was no activity at mine 2 or 5 today. The Consumers Fuel mine at Jackson Center was idle also, and other mines such as the Honeysuckle at Stoneboro, the Boyer mine, the Gibson mine and other smaller banks, were down. Officers of the local said that there was no coal being mined in the district today.

KIDNAPING CASE IN OKLAHOMA IS READY FOR JURY

that the government has given official and legal recognition to kidnapping as a crime.

Operated in Northwest Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 29.—Operations of George "Machine Gun" Kelly, Albert Bates and others of their gangland pals have extended into the Pacific Northwest, it was learned here today as police dusted off criminal records.

Two sensational bank robberies and a list of warrants for grand larceny and escape from immigration officials make up the record involving the gangsters.

fendants, one of them a woman, Mrs. Ora Shannon of Paradise, Texas, listened carefully to the lawyers' orations.

The courtroom was thronged as Attorney Carey began to speak in behalf of the five St. Paul and Minneapolis defendants who are accused of having helped pass $5,000 of the $200,000 ransom which was paid over for the release of the kidnapped Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil millionaire.

After Carey completes his argument, one more defense lawyer was to be heard and then United States Attorney Herbert K. Hyde will make the final summation of the government.

Attorney Carey declared that the five St. Paul defendants had no part in any conspiracy to kidnap Urschel.

He warned the jury not to convict a man on circumstantial evidence alone. He pointed out that "money passes freely" and added: "The court will instruct you, I take it, that the mere fact that money has been possessed by any persons does not create even a presumption of guilt."

He said it may be true that some of the St. Paul defendants were in the liquor business. But that evidence was introduced by the government, he contended, for the purpose of "building up suspicion and innuendo."

'Coal Holiday' Reaches Wampum

Miners Join In Holiday This Morning Following Pickets Visit

As the result of a visit to Wampum this morning, by a group of mine pickets from Butler county coal areas, the "coal mine holiday" has been extended to the mine of the Vance Coal Company, it is learned today.

The miners did not go to work, and the mine operations are tied up, as a result.

The pickets left in the direction of Ellwood City, expecting to visit some smaller mines in that area, in an effort to halt operations at them. Officials of the Wampum mine are uninformed as to the cause of "holiday" as yet.

There was no disorder or trouble.

The first assembly of the new semester was conducted this afternoon at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. Various announcements were made. Singing was enjoyed. No definite time for assembly meetings have been set at the jun-

A lively pep meeting was conducted on Wednesday of this week. Most of us needn't worry, however, until kidnappers adopt the small-profits-and-big-turnover idea.

OX CART TO PLANE

IN ONE LIFE SPAN

(International News Service) WINCHESTER, Mass.—How times change.

Forty years ago, Lorin N. Morrison heard the call of the west and answered it.

His trip west included a fifteen weeks journey by ox cart from Lodge Pole, Nebraska, to Hilliard, Wyoming.

Lorin finally settled down in Salt Lake City, Utah, and became president of the "Silver Horn" and "King David" mines.

During the intervening years, Lorin never failed to keep in touch with his friends east and topped off an exciting 93 years of living by dashing east by airplane, his first sky ride, to visit friends.

The craving for sympathy is the common boundary line between joy and sorrow. J. C. and A. W. Hare—"Guesses at Truth".

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to those voters whose untiring efforts and loyalty made possible the vote which I received at the recent Primary and to extend my congratulations to Mr. Alley.

MORE SPEED ASKED

THE call again has gone out from Washington to states and cities wanting federal funds for public works to hurry their plans. It comes this time from the president himself. The administrator of the public works funds, Secretary Ickes, previously had appealed for greater speed, and considerable red tape had been cut to permit this.

Less than $2,000,000,000 of the $3,300,000,000 available for public works projects has been allocated.

It is not often that special efforts have to be made to give away money. Prospective recipients usually need no urging to take their place in line.

With winter almost here, it is especially desirable that work be given to as large numbers of unemployed as possible. This was emphasized by the president in his appeal to mayors meeting in Chicago to hurry forward their plans. He promised that the latter would be acted upon "with a minimum of delay" by officials in Washington. "We will match speed with you," he said. "The money is available, and we want to put men to work."

Certain safeguards have to be observed in allocating the money, to prevent waste and graft. These appear, though, to have been reduced to a minimum, and the administration is anxious that projects encounter as little delay as possible.

The need is immediate. The money is ready. No further appeal from Washington authorities should be necessary to spur officials to action.

ENVIRONMENT AND CUPID

In times of old when knights and maids were not so bold the romantic notion prevailed that in all the world there is only one girl for each eligible bachelor, and that he must find, woo and win her, and will pine away if he does not; and conversely, that if the lady discovers her soul-mate and is prevented from halting and alighting him she will either go swiftly to the grave or else endure a long life of spinsterhood. That was a romantic idea, indeed, but it doesn't hold water today. Believe it or not in the theory of environment, particularly the theory that it has anything to do with love and marriage, but the fact is that environment, not romantic visions, determines one's partner through life or part of it.

The residence record of 5,000 marriages in Philadelphia tells the prosaic story. In 12.64 per cent of the cases the principals lived at the same address; in 4.54 per cent, in the same block; in 6.08 per cent, one or two blocks apart; and in a majority of cases or nearly 52 per cent, they lived within 20 blocks of each other.

That leaves about 25 per cent for the Lotherios and Sir Launfal who, after finding the one and only at home, set forth to spy and win her wherever she may be in this broad world. How many of that number go in search of fortune and come back hymenized one can only conjecture, but many will ruefully confess that a new environment did it.

There is a lot of silly, impossible stuff on the screen but that overworked plot about two persons of opposite sex cast upon a desert island discovering that they are soul-mates isn't as unreal as it seems. Love is like that.

KING OF SPORTS

Baseball is still the great American sport. Any doubt of that was removed when the placing of world series tickets on sale the other day revealed a demand for them in excess of that of last year. But why?

No game yet developed is so thrilling or so charged with the elements of passion and suspense as major league ball. Football and polo are hard games, in which players win distinction only by extraordinary stamina, skill and fortitude. But baseball is more a matter of hair-trigger technique and the perfect combination of team-work and individual play.

But baseball doesn't owe its place in the sun to itself alone. An army of enthusiastic sports editors and other writing men, some thousands of miles of telegraph wires, unlimited space on the front pages and sports sections of newspapers and scoreboards everywhere have exalted glorified and popularized the game.

Other sports may win new following and sand-lot baseball may vanish from the picture of amateur athletics, but big league baseball will remain the major sport of the nation as long as the sporting pages treat it as such.

THE LIMBERLOST

Admirers of the late Gene Stratton Porter will read with a pang of regret the proposal urged at Washington for converting the "Limberlost" into a storage reservoir for controlling the Wabash River.

With the Limberlost as a background the Indiana authorities wrote a most pleasant romance of childhood and young love. Her chronicles of nature, written with the devotion of one who cherished the region she made famous, gave to this area of Hoosier swamp and lowland a distinction known far and wide.

The Limberlost, say the geologists, was once a canyon through which the Wabash roared in flood time. The waters were dammed, perhaps by a glacier, and the place became a lake, then a morass and finally an area partially cultivated but mostly waste. Under these conditions a fauna and flora different from those found elsewhere in Indiana or Ohio thrived undisturbed.

Mrs. Porter loved the region and wrote with an artist's fervor of its wonders. Conservation is a policy of wisdom, but sometimes it steps heavily on sentiment.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A code covering operation of neighbors' loud radios remains an urgent need.

Judging by the noise being made by its advocates, inflation must mean sound money.

Easy way to locate swindlers: Just levy a special tax on them and listen for the customary howl.

All of life is like that. Once you find you can grow a mustache, you no longer want the darned thing.

If instead of lending money to Russia to buy American cotton the government would give it direct and string-free to the planters, it would avoid the expense of bookkeeping.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

PRAISE IS A GOOD COIN.

One who rarely praises, praises something I did.

Said it was good. Said it was the best thing I've ever written.

I protested. Said it was an accident. Said I'd probably stolen the idea from somebody else.

Got red from ear to ear. Was made ridiculously happy by that rare praise.

I didn't believe the praise was true, but I wanted to believe it. I hoped it was true, however, and it was good to know that someone, once at least, thought well of me.

A gay little flame began to burn within me. A fire that warmed me in winter and had the miraculous power of cooling me on the hottest day.

A flame that a bit of praise had started. Sweeter than luscious fruit. More welcome than a cool breeze in the scorching desert.

Something I had done nothing to deserve, but that was dearer to me than diamonds. I had not "fished" for it, had not baited a hook to catch it; but it rose like a lovely mermaid from a green-white wave of life and smiled enchantingly upon me.

A bit of praise. A compliment.

It had cost that other fellow nothing. It was small riches, too. How silly, how sweet!

And what a good coin a compliment is. A coin that never loses its value, that never depreciates, but is always a fair exchange.

And then, in a generous and friendly mood, I took the gold of that compliment and melted it down and made other coins of it and found no one who would refuse my small Coins of Praise.

Every man, every woman, was willing to take a compliment. And all, for something each had done, deserved it. I found that it was easy to praise, if I felt like praising.

If I were happy, I could find an excuse somewhere for putting praise into circulation and seeing people smile and seeing them made happy by a coin of praise that was as tiny but as enduringly active as a speck of radium.

I'm telling you that in all the world there's no greater coin than praise. And it may be minted, legally and with risk, in any human heart.

THE POWER OF ADVERTISING

It is perfectly easy today to manufacture. The revelations of science, the ever-growing population that affords a plentiful supply of labor, have simplified the problems of making all that we need to eat, drink, wear, and use. But the brains that direct these factors, the energy that exploits them, and the imagination that visualizes further possibilities, are all at the mercy of the force that disposes of what has been made. If the printing presses were to be destroyed, the effect would be felt throughout the retail, wholesale and manufacturing worlds very quickly. Goods, and therefore money, would cease to circulate so steadily; shops would begin to empty; then the machines would stand idle in the factories and workers would have to be dismissed; for the whole of the machinery which keeps things moving, which generates and galvanizes the demand which must always have its right relation to supply, would have ceased to function. Moralists might say that the public would merely cease buying what was not absolutely needed. In a sense that is true. But an individual expediency that brings economic disaster to millions is no rectification of evils. We must take industrial conditions as we find them; and if advertising ceased—which it would virtually do without the Press—supply would swamp demand and economic and social chaos would be the outcome.—Sir Charles Higham, in Advertising.

Nation Shows Uncertainty
In Appraisal of Public Works

Necessity For All Possible Speed Is Affirmed, While Opinions As To Present Record Cover
Wide Range

Complaints from some sources that the public-works program is slow in getting under way produce widely differing reactions. Chief consideration is the approach of winter, with the possibility of curtailment of some of the projects. Judgments differ as to whether three billion dollars, allotted for this branch of recovery, should be rigidly guarded. Some observers would make speed paramount.

Attention is given by the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR to the reply of Secretary Ickes "to the charge of too much red tape, by making the counter-charge that, while he has cut red tape everywhere, the political snipers are trying to trip him up with the same material."

The Evening Star concludes: "The secretary is making a valiant effort to dispose of the money and do it in a manner that will bring most employment on necessary work. This is a difficult job, and no matter how well he does it the indications are that Congress will be presented with plans for increasing the amounts available for loaning and grants and letting down the bars on how the money can be spent. The proposal by the Governor of Georgia the other day that airplanes should be sent all over the country dropping $20 bills may not be as far-fetched as it sounds."

"Secretary Ickes is said to be growing restive at the delay in starting, which he believes to be due to outside interference," says the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, observing that "the administration believes political efforts to cause uneconomic expenditures, dilatory tactics in the letting of contracts, inefficient applications, attempts of contractors to avoid bonding, and attempts of contractors to eliminate competitive bidding, are evils. That paper, however, offers the conclusion: 'It is a desperate undertaking to afford employment and to distribute a great sum of money as quickly as possible thru-out the country in order to create purchasing power. Obviously if these objectives, namely, efficiency and economical administration must be neglected.'"

Impressive as is the amount to be expended," thinks the SAN ANTONIO EVENING NEWS, "it is hardly a drop in the bucket compared with the demands which have swamped the Board. Even after all but the more meritorious projects shall have been weeded out, the Board will be compelled to reject the great majority of applications submitted. It can only follow its policy of preferring those enterprises for which plans are complete and on which men can be put to work the quickest. After that the Board will attempt to measure the urgency of the need and the social benefits to be conferred. Certainly the Administration could follow no other course."

"If money is to be spent, let us spend it for things that will return a dollar's worth for each dollar distributed," advises the SIOUX FALLS DAILY ARGUS LEADER, while the DEXTER CITY JOURNAL, holding that "there is no ground for complaint that haste is not being made," adds that "it will be to the glory of Mr. Ickes and the President if no serious scandals arise." The SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION is convinced that "with winter approaching, employment must show a further margin in mind of leading welfare situation is to be much improved." The Union also feels that "it has come to the point where States will have to hump themselves, hurry along their plans, and meet all requirements within a specified time or the opportunity will be lost."

"If the government is so anxious to get money to working," suggests the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, "it has itself pointed out the way to the solution."

Pickets Visit Jackson Center

More Mercer County Miners Are Affected By "Coal Holiday"

LEESBURG MINERS ANNOUNCE DEMANDS

For the first time in many years, perhaps in the history of the soft coal industry, Mercer county coal miners and those on the edge of Lawrence county, have joined with the larger fields in central and southwestern Pennsylvania in walking out.

The men are on the "miners' holiday," declared early Thursday morning and insist they will remain away from the mines until the larger operators sign the NRA code, and the local mines recognize the newly organized lodges of the United Mine Workers of America.

Early Thursday morning several hundred pickets from Butler county and from the southwestern coal fields visited Mine No. 2 and Mine No. 5 of the Sharon Coal & Limestone company near Leesburg. In both instances the miners dropped their tools and walked out. The mine of the Consumers Fuel company of Jackson Center was the next point of call and at 3:30 these miners walked out. Other groups visited mines near Stoneboro and Sandy Lake and a mass meeting of thousands of miners was held this morning near Mine No. 5.

Want Union Recognition.

"We are insisting upon the recognition of our union," said Ernest Rodgers and John E. Hodgin, president and vice president of the newly organized unions. Jack Stewart, the corresponding secretary, and James Williams, secretary-treasurer, reaffirmed this position.

"We also insist that the companies shall sign the NRA code for the soft coal industry. That the NRA wages shall be paid and hours observed and that a check weighman shall be stationed at the mouth of the mine. A further demand is the abolition of 'dead work' which is the removal of slate and stone covering the coal vein."

Under the NRA code the rates for miners are 70 cents per ton for picked coal and 45 for machine cut coal. At the present time the rates being paid are 60 cents for picked coal and 44 for machine cut coal. A miner is allowed 29 cents per yard for "dead work," but must buy his own dynamite and caps.

There was no disturbance or violence in the Brent-Leesburg-Jackson Center district Thursday. The miners were on a holiday and they had the holiday spirit.

Parley At Jackson Center.

At the Consumers Fuel company the owners parleyed with the delegations from Mines 2 and 5. The Consumers mine employs about 75 men. "We have signed the code and have no objection to the unionization of our men," said Superintendent Thomas of this mine. "We have hospital and school contracts that must be filled and our bins are practically empty."

The delegation agreed that hospital and school contracts should be filled, but that no other coal could be mined for domestic or commercial purposes while the holiday lasts. The Consumers mine has no industrial contracts.

According to a number of the miners the organization of the union had been under way quietly for several weeks. P. T. Pagan, president of the Pittsburgh district of the U. M. W. A. is said to have visited the Lawrence-Mercer-Butler district some time ago and laid the plans for the union organization.

During all the gatherings of miners in the district Thursday, this one insistence was made, that the H. C. Frick Coke company must sign the NRA code before the miners would go back to work.

Ohio Bank Robber Killed By Marshal

Bank Bandit Is Surprised By Marshal As He Flees From Bank With $300

BOWLING GREEN, O., Sept. 29.—A bank robber met death today at the hands of Marshal Ben Stone of Luckrey, a small village near here. Marshal Stone intercepted a lone bank bandit as he emerged from the Farmers Savings Bank, with $300 in currency. The bandit fired at Stone and wounded him in the leg, but Stone drew his gun and fired a fatal charge into the breast of the robber.

The robber was later identified by a hunting license as G. R. Saunders of Columbus Grove, O., 38-year-old barber.

President Is Taking Rest

Stays At Hyde Park Home
Leisurely Studying Future Program

TO PREPARE SPEECH FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

(International News Service)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 29.—President Roosevelt leisurely studied the progress of his banking and credit expansion program today as he rested in his country home.

The executive planned to be at his desk until noon, handling mail and going over official communications sent up from Washington but will "take it easy" during the afternoon.

Late in the day Mr. Roosevelt was to draft the basis for an informal talk he will make at the Hyde Park Methodist Episcopal church tonight. The church is holding a centennial patriotic celebration, and Mr. Roosevelt promised to speak informally. Except for the president's speech, the program was to be one of prayer and hymns.

Tomorrow, the president will settle down in earnest to the job of writing the important speech he will make before the national Catholic charities in New York next Wednesday night. It is this talk which the president's closest friends believe will be used by the executive to answer verbally demands for inflation.

To Discuss Credit Expansion

In addition to an expression on inflation, the Wednesday night speech will probably include the details of the new credit expansion program. Mr. Roosevelt formulated this, designed to free billions of deposits in closed banks and generally loosen credits, as an indirect inflation program. He expects it to provide the needed impetus to send new financial blood through sluggish economic veins of the nation. A number of his aides have attempted to get in touch with the president by telephone on this matter or that, but almost all of them have been turned down. When the president came here, Wednesday afternoon, he announced he would have no callers, and would carry out as little official business as possible. He has adhered strictly to this program.

NEW RESERVOIR BUILT IN QUEBEC

(International News Service)
QUEBEC—American visitors to Quebec in future will not be faced with the bugbear of no drinking water, which has faced them on various occasions, due to breaks in Quebec's temperamental 40 inch main.

A new 30,000,000 gallon reservoir, completed for some weeks, is being filled, and once the task is completed there will be sufficient water to last the whole city for several days, even if people decide to wash themselves every day.

Formerly visitors were never sure whether there would be any water with which to perform their ablutions, or use as a "chaser," as the main generally snapped at most unexpected times.

SEVEN FEET OF WATER JUST A POOL FOR TOT

(International News Service)
MADERA, Cal.—Norma Jean, 14 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Swain of Winton, Cal. takes to water like a duck. Visiting at the home of A. W. Gurner on a Chowchilla ranch near here, the Swains missed their little girl and began a hasty search. She was found a few minutes later floating on her back in a large tank of water, totally unconcerned and oblivious of the danger of the seven foot depth.

College Paper Changes Style, Adds Features

Westminster Publication To Appear In Tabloid Size In Future

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 29.—The Westminster Herald, student newspaper which has had 50 years of history, will appear today in a new format. The Herald will be a five-column paper, tabloid size instead of the six-column size which it has followed for the last six years.

Not only will the college paper be different in size, but it will be published on the second and fourth Friday of each month, instead of the second and fourth Tuesday as formerly. The typography will be different in that stories will be set on eight-point slugs solid instead of eight-point on ten-point slugs. A new headline schedule which uses only capital letters and lower case letters, has been devised by Professor R. X. Graham, faculty adviser, and Harold Polonus, Sharon, editor.

The paper will frequently be eight pages. An added feature will be the presentation of a rotogravure supplement with each issue. Collegiate Digest, the illustrated supplement, will be used by almost all college newspapers of the country. A complete review in pictures of college events throughout the country will be found in Collegiate Digest.

A large staff of freshman reporters has answered the initial call for staff competition and the Herald's 50th year promises to be a successful one.

Film-Flam Pair Land In Jail

Several Games Now Being Worked On Store-Keepers And Others

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 29.—Every once in a while the "warm turns" in criminal pursuits and the intended sucker puts one over on the easy money game. That's what happened yesterday when two confidence men tried to pull that old gag about a "large sum of money" on Ray Bulyak of 431 W. Rayen avenue.

The men came to Bulyak with the story of trying to locate a relative in Youngstown. They wanted Bulyak to help—in a small financial way "just as a bond of good faith." He would be well paid.

But Bulyak reads the newspapers and he had heard of that one many times before. He was just waiting for a chance like this. Instead of hurrying to the bank to get the money, he telephoned police headquarters and Officer Ed Welsh arrested the two men.

Now they will have police assistance in finding the "lost relative" and handing over the supposed fortune.

But in another district, Albasia Valine of 318 Emerald street wasn't so lucky. He traded $500 in postal savings for an old bundle of newspapers to two other film-flam artists.

"The men came into my store," Valine mourned, "and said they wanted to leave a bundle of money with me. They asked for security and I gave them $500 which I had drawn from by postal savings account."

Valine told police when the men failed to come back he had opened the bundle and found only paper. They had shown him money.

Another gang of crooks is working merchants to whom they represent that they want to buy a store. They get the storekeeper to a hotel room or other place and rob him.

But slick lawyers couldn't exist without the patronage of people who denounce slick lawyers.

Saul In Tarsus

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

(The International Uniform Lesson for Oct. 1 is the first of a three months' series on "The Life of Paul," the subject being "Saul in Tarsus" and the scripture Acts 21:39, 22:3, 27, 28, 26:4-7; Phil. 3:3-6. The Golden Text is II Tim. 2:15, "Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth.")

The Golden Text

Tim. 2:15—"Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth."

In this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous towards God."

"I Was Free Born"

We know nothing of the name of his parents. But we do know that his father was a Roman citizen. The Roman citizen who had almost made the blunder of scourging Paul, not knowing of his Roman citizenship, apologized for his error, saying, "With a great sum obtained I this freedom." And Paul proudly went him one better by saying, "But I was free born." Paul was never ashamed of his race or religious background. He was ashamed of the fact that he was "of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law a Pharisee," and to testify, "After the most strait sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee." Thus God prepared Saul of Tarsus to be Christianity's greatest apostle and missionary and the most perfect reflection and embodiment of Christ.

"At the Feet of Gamaliel"

At almost the same time that the child Jesus came up to Jerusalem with his parents at the age of twelve years came to Jerusalem to sit at the feet of his people's greatest teacher, Gamaliel, to prepare to be a rabbi among his people. He, too, must have been thrilled at the spiritual privileges thus opened to him, and that made Jesus say, "Wist ye not that I must be about the things of my Father?" These things of which Jesus questioned the doctors Saul learned as he was "brought up

Government To Concentrate On Winter Relief

All Agencies Of Government Will Work For Relief During Winter Months

RELIEF FIGURES SLOWLY DROPPING

More Men Are Being Put To Work On Public Works Projects In Country

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Every relief agency of the government today was concentrated on the administration program of relief for the winter. August unemployment relief figures, just made public, show that 40 states reporting, 10 indicated increases in families on relief, against 12 with fewer families, and eight others not tabulated.

Drop In Relief
There was a drop of about 4 percent in the total of families actually receiving relief over the country in August, compared to July. Relief authorities are watching this trend closely, as regardless of the number to be fed this winter, the promise has gone out that relief must be more adequate and that if necessary the government will assure that it is.

Already, a report from Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, shows 28 states have reported increased relief costs, which are apparently due to augmented relief being given, under injunction from Hopkins.

Steps Are Taken
In the various agencies the following steps were reported:

1. Public Works Administrator Harold L. Ickes released a record list of non-federal projects, each designed to stimulate local employment in 12 states.
2. The federal relief administration was preparing to utilize increased stocks of surplus agricultural commodities to supplement relief being given, and to insure an adequate coal supply for fuel relief.

3. States received an aggregate of $250,000 to build up relief for unemployed transients.

Create 2500 Jobs
Explaining the lag in re-employment compared with public works expenditures, it was stated that the cumulative effect of projects extending into most states over the country would be felt later. In most cases a period of 30 days must elapse between allocation of funds and actual work, and consequent employment.

Projects announced since yesterday provide approximately 2500 jobs over the country. Most of these are in small blocks of work in each community, but in Iowa approximately 900 jobs will result; in Cleveland, there will be 850 jobs.

MALE STUDENTS IN LEAD AT GROVE CITY

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 29.—For the first time in many years there are more boys registered at Grove City college than girls. The enrollment for the fall semester just completed shows 350 men and 275 co-eds.

The freshman class registered this fall totals 188 members.

In previous years the registration has shown a two to one ratio of women over men. This change for the leadership of the male sex cannot be accounted for by any logical economic reason.

SEE ANOTHER DEFAULT ON DEBTS IN DECEMBER

United States May Lose $300,000,000

Debt Revision Parade Of Non-Defaulting Nations To Start In Week

LITTLE HOPE OF LARGE PAYMENTS

"Token" Payments Made In June Were For Only Small Part Of Debt Due

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—A survey of treasury estimates on the debt payments due this government December 15 from the European nations today showed the United States may be out nearly $300,000,000 if debtor nations make no larger payments than they did on June 15th last.

With the start of the debt revision parade of the non-defaulting nations just a week away, American officials conceded privately there seems little hope at present of any larger payments being received in December than were in June unless a new settlement was reached in the meantime calling for a lump sum payment.

Even in the event such a settlement was reached, it could not become effective until acted upon by congress and that body does not meet until January 3, more than two weeks after the December payments fall due.

Thus, the most that can be expected in December outside lump sum offers towards a final settlement are the so-called "token" payments such as were made in June. These June payments totaled only a little more than $11,000,000 which represented less than eight percent of the $143,605,295 due.

$310,538,963 Due
The treasury estimates show that the debt payments due this government in December, including the regular installments due on that date plus the unpaid balances and defaults, total $310,538,963. Thus, if the "token" payments do not exceed those made in June, the estimated governmental receipts from this source will fall short approximately $299,000,000 of the amount due.

Default by France on the $22,200,926.54 installment due in December is regarded as a foregone conclusion in well-informed circles here. It is considered highly probable that at least two of France's satellites, Poland and Belgium, will follow suit. These three nations defaulted on the last two payments and if they do so again in December the amount on which they have failed to meet payments will total $105,824,150.13.

Meanwhile, the treasury department was preparing to handle the preliminary debt conversations which will commence with the British on October 5. These conversations will be inaugurated on behalf of Great Britain by Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, chief economic adviser to his majesty's government, and probably by Dean Acheson, under secretary of the treasury, on behalf of this government.

Chief Problem Of NRA Today Strike Threats

Organized And Unorganized
Labor Leans On Strikes
To Bargain For Wages

NEW POLICY IS BEING FRAMED

National Labor Board Will Set Up Mediation Boards
Throughout Country

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—
Organized and unorganized labor's increasing use of the strike as a wage bargaining weapon in industries under codes today became the chief problem of the NRA.

In an effort to stem the tide of disorder that is swelling through the ranks of labor, Senator Robert F. Wagner (D) of New York initiated a more vigorous mediation policy for the National Labor Board.
Instead of waiting to receive complaints in Washington, the board will set up regional mediation agencies in all labor troubled areas.

Will Step-In
When strike talk begins to thicken, NRA mediators will step in and attempt to force workers and employers to avert walkouts by signing agreements authorizing the National Labor Board to settle the disputes in any way it finds necessary.

More than 100,000 workers are now idle as a result of strikes in various industries, including automobile, coal, steel, silk and leather industries.

Almost all these have been called out or have decided to walk out as a means of the guarantees that have been set up for workers in various codes under the terms of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

Seek Fairness
High NRA officials are beginning to realize that workers, long suppressed in this country by "Yellow Dog" contracts and a shower of blanket injunctions, are coming now to feel the sense of power to which section 7 (A) of the NIRA directs them.

In order to avert a possible general uprising of labor, spurred on by organized labor leaders and new labor elements, the NRA plans to inaugurate a really serviceable method of arbitrating disputes quickly and with fairness to all parties.

The old-fashioned, long drawn out conference proceedings may be abolished, and a brisker, more brief method adopted. Attempts probably will be made to persuade disputants to file briefs and permit direct mediation action to be taken on them at once.

Prisoner Escapes
From Local Guard

Woman Makes Getaway From Constable In Pittsburgh
On Thursday

Slipping into an express elevator in a Pittsburgh office building as her guard momentarily conferred with another man, a New Castle woman prisoner, Mrs. Helen Kaiser, 40, a widow of Freeport, W. Va., escaped from Constable Frank C. Conner, this city, on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Kaiser was arrested by city police in the Seventh ward last Monday and turned over to Alderman Wallace J. Ewing, before whom she was charged with obtaining money on false pretense. It is said she collected money for dresses that never were delivered.

The widow asked the constable to take her to Pittsburgh so she might borrow money from friends to make good with her customers. So Constable Conner took her to a relative of hers, in the executive offices of the Pittsburgh Coal company, and the relative appeared. The constable was talking to her relative nearby the busy elevators when she stepped into one and escaped.

County detectives were immediately called and the entire building searched. They were continuing the hunt today.

Board of Health.

Ford Strikers Ask Government To Take Hand

Intervention By NRA Officials Will Be Asked By
New Jersey Strikers

(International News Service)
EDGEWATER, N. J., Sept. 29.—
Intervention of the national recovery administration will be sought today by striking workers of the Edgewater plant of the Ford Motor Company, leaders of the strikers announced here.

Action by the NRA will be requested, it was said, when a committee representing the strikers will appear before the New Jersey state board of the recovery administration and the board of compliance and complaint in Newark. The committee will lay before both groups the demands of the strikers relative to wages and working conditions.

Will Use Pickets
As Hugh V. Reilly, state secretary of the American Federation of Labor, proclaimed the strike "definitely on," leaders of the workers who walked out made plans to picket the plant in an effort to induce all of the 2,000 employees to join the strike.
Thomas J. Dunphy, head of a group of striking workers from the

Chester, Pa., plant of the Ford Company, said 800 workers have walked out from the local plant although company officers said only 150 had failed too punch the time clock.

Plan For Action
CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 28.—Striking workers at the assembly plant of the Ford Motor Company here today were discussing the possibility of organizing a motorcade to converge on Detroit for picket duty at the main plant there.

About half of the 2,400 workers at the plant here remained on picket duty while the others were in Edgewater, N. J., pushing the strike movement at the Ford plant there.

Strikers were to meet today to discuss efforts of the National Labor Board to mediate the strike here which threatens to involve all plants on the eastern seaboard.

Found In Chicago
A Generous Scot
(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill.—The Scotch have been libeled. Police Sgt. Tom Murray disproved the ancient wheeze about the tenacity with which the clansmen cling to their nickles by coming to the relief of a young Irishman who was short 20 cents, the price of admission to the World Fair.

H. R. Maloney, 17 came all the way from Springfield, O., to attend "Irish Day" at the exposition. When he counted his nickles and dimes and found them insufficient, he tried to crash the gate and was taken to a police station where Scotchman Murray dug down into his own pockets to help Maloney.

New Hurricane Menaces Mexico
Eastern Mexico Again In Path Of Hurricane, Says
Weather Bureau

(International News Service)
TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 29.—Another hurricane menaced eastern Mexico today as relief workers sought to repair the destruction and bury the victims of the week-end storm that ravaged this once thriving oil port.

A weather forecast issued by the Vera Cruz weather bureau told of a new tropical disturbance which appeared in the Caribbean sea and was affecting the southeastern zone of the gulf of Mexico.

Bringing a new threat to the devastated Tampico area, according to the bureau, the disturbance was moving slowly to the west.

Refugees from the last storm, meanwhile, continued to enter the city from surrounding areas which suffered heavily while rising floods added to the difficulties of relief and exploration work.

One report received here said that a Mr. and Mrs. Dunkinson, American ranch owners at Agua Dulce, drowned when their property was inundated.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 29.—A Japanese student was killed and his companion injured when the motorcycle they were riding was forced off the Lincoln highway near Beaver Falls, Pa. The injured Japanese student died shortly after the accident in the Beaver Falls City hospital.

The dead youth was Hyuan Seung Oh, 22, a student at Virginia Military Institute. The pair were en route to Virginia from Chicago, when the accident happened. Accompanying Oh was Dr. Kito Hahn. Peggy Joyce Says Husbands And Wives Should Adopt Code

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 29.—"Fairness and cooperation" should be the keynote of any marital code. This from no less an authority than Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

The blonde actress whose four marriages have made her famous has very definite ideas not only on what kind of a code should be promulgated for wives, but also for husbands, she revealed today.

"Fair practice for marriage" in Miss Joyce's opinion should include:

Hours of work: For wives, all in the morning; for husbands, all day, and if the husband doesn't work he should stay away from home.

Hours of relaxation: For wives, afternoons, evenings, and Sundays; for husbands, eight hours a week, for golf, fishing, etc.

Hours of entertainment alone: For wives, every afternoon off for theatres, bridge parties, and teas;

for husbands: Two nights a week at his club, or playing poker.

Place Is In Home

Hours for entertainment together: As frequent as possible remembering that woman's place is in the home when her husband is there.

Vacations together: Wives should accompany husbands on their main vacation.

Vacations alone: For wives, once a year; for husbands, once a year.

Dates with other men and women: For wives, none; for husbands, none.

Division of salary: For wives, fifty percent for personal use and the home; for husbands, fifty percent for clothes and entertainment.

In addition, Miss Joyce believes the happy home should have a butler, cook, and maid, with the wife in complete charge.

Furthermore, the dashing blonde believes husbands should devote a portion of their income to jewels for Christmas and birthdays, but, she adds, women shouldn't be spoiled.

children of New Castle and Mrs. James Pecore and family of Wampum were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stodalak.

KISSES NOT WORTH $3 BOX OF CANDY

(International News Service)
DENVER—Two kisses may or may not be too high a price for a $3 box of candy. Miss Faith Arnett, 18, of Round Grove, Ill., thought $3 was too much for the box of candy, and offered Gust Christinos, 36, a couple of kisses instead. Christinos agreed to the bargain, accepted the kisses and then decided they weren't worth the candy.

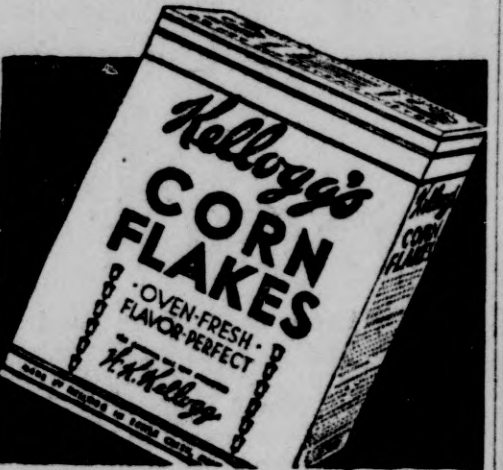

The two argued until police interfered and charged them with vagrancy. Miss Arnett was sentenced to county jail to serve out a $50 fine. Christinos' trial was postponed.

SCOUTS BACK HOME WITH MANY SOUVENIRS

(International News Service)
ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 20.—Three Allentown Boy Scouts returned from the international Boy Scout jamboree in Hungary loaded down with trinkets and souvenirs.

CAMP 92 HONORS DEPARTING BOYS AT FETE TONIGHT

Mess Sergeant At Asaph Has Dinner Plans Ready; Number End Service

By DON LANIGAN
(Special To The News)
CAMP NO. 92, C. C. C., ASAPH, Pa., Sept. 29.—Tonight will be a gala time for the camp 92 fellows who depart for their homes on Saturday after a six-months-long life in the forest.

Sergeant Daniels, our mess sergeant, claims he is going to give the boys a dinner that they will talk about for six more months.

Some of the boys working on the picnic road dug up an old grave yard and uncovered two bodies. Now it's hard getting the fellows to report to work.

The first thing you do when you get up here in the morning is to see how the weather will be for the day. If it looks unfavorable you can hear the boys shouting "Send her down, Davey—send her down!"

DISCOVER GRAVE OF MOUND TRIBE IN PENNSYLVANIA

(International News Service)
CANONSBURG, Pa.—Almost daily the Monongahela river valley yields some discovery which indicates that Western Pennsylvania centuries ago was inhabited by a prehistoric race.

Archaeologists have maintained in the past several years that a tribe of "mound builders" which historians claim existed about a thousand years ago, was centered in the valley.

Headed by G. S. Fisher, district archaeologist, a party of men concentrating their activities in the vicinity of Canonsburg have reported excavations which many regard as conclusive proof of the "mound builders" theories.

LARGEST BEER VAT
FOR SAN FRANCISCO

ULM, Germany—This picturesque South German city which harbors a cathedral with the highest spire in the country is just finishing the largest mash vat of the world for a brewery in San Francisco.

A number of coppersmiths, who constitute the most renowned Ulm guild since the middle ages, are working on it.

The copper vat measures some ten feet in height and has a diameter of 25 feet. If used to its full capacity, it can take 250 German hundred-weight of malt, and its total weight is 16,000 pounds.

Drives To Chicago And Attends Fair

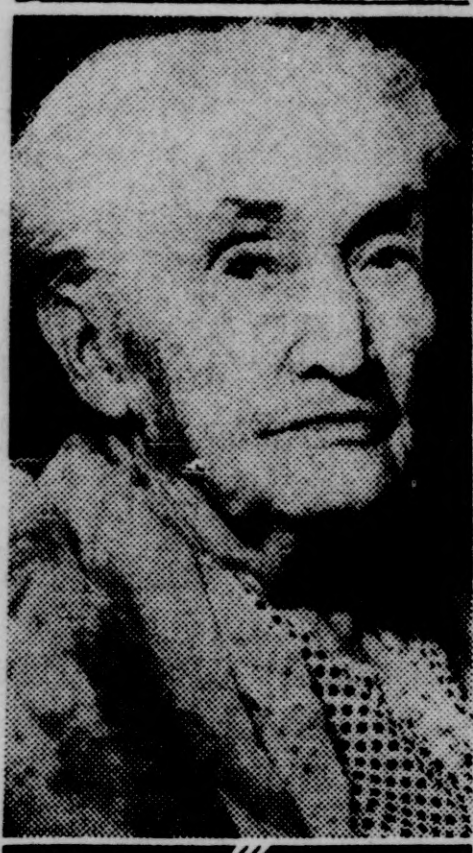

It is not often that one reaches the age of 89 and still retains enough vitality and vigor to drive half way across the continent and then travel all over the miles to be covered in viewing the Century of Progress exhibition, but such is the case with Mrs. J. W. Clarke, 398 Boyles avenue, who reached the 89th milestone in her life on September 18.

A few days after she had reached this age she decided it would be a good idea to visit her daughter, Mrs. Richard McCombs, in Chicago, so accompanied by her two daughters, Misses Mary and Nettie Clarke, she left the city by motor and thoroughly enjoyed the trip, not a sight missed her alert eyes, she pointed out things along the way which had escaped the eyes of her daughters.

After arriving in Chicago, Mrs. Clarke thought the trip would not be complete without a look at the world's fair, so she spent some time in visiting the various halls, buildings and exhibits, taking a great interest in the progress that has been made during the century, the greater part of which she has lived.

Before leaving the city Mrs. Clarke had her daughters see to it that she received The News during her visit, for as well as keeping abreast of the times in Chicago, she wanted to know also what is going on back home.

Mrs. Clarke expects to make a two weeks' stay in Chicago.

Women Attend Franklin Meet

King's Daughters Will Have Annual Conference In New Castle In 1934

A large number of members of the Randolph Circle of King's Daughters of this city attended the annual meeting of the Western Pennsylvania district held in Franklin Thursday.

The meeting was a most profitable one, with reports given of the work of the various circles. Mrs. Edwin Salter of Franklin was the speaker of the afternoon and the Oil City circle was in charge of the music.

The King's Daughters is an interdenominational, international organization doing relief and church work, especially among the children and aged people, with two homes, one for children and the other for aged, established in the eastern part of the state.

The 1934 conference will be held in New Castle, with Mrs. Ira Campbell and Mrs. W. L. Steen to make the preliminary arrangements.

COST $300 TO GET RID OF VERMIN

(International News Service)
NORRISTOWN, Pa.—Norristown residents living between two industrial plants are enjoying some sound sleep for a change but it cost $300 to rid the area of vermin that piled back and forth. A three acre plot was sprayed with 3,000 gallons of fuel oil and 300 gallons of gasoline. Then a match was set to it. Millions of roaches and other insects were thus exterminated.

QUILT OF 7,282 PIECES BY CIVIL WAR VET

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal.—All the women folks in this vicinity are jealous of a 78-year-old Civil War veteran, O.

T. Simmons. The women are probably right in their jealousy because Simmons has just completed making a quilt containing 7282 pieces.

The veteran started quilt making as a hobby two years ago and when he heard that a San Diego woman had won a prize at the county fair for making a 6,000-piece quilt he decided to beat her record. His 7282-piece effort was the result.

Why try to be perfect? You never see a bronze statue of a perfect man.

TIRE MOUNTAIN (International News Service)

MARSHFIELD, Ore.—A miniature mountain of ancient automobile tires all but swamped a local theatre which offered children free admittance to a show upon payment of one old casing. Many of the children had never seen a show before.

Clover Farm Operates Branches Through U. S.

This history of the Clover Farm Stores shows an amazingly rapid progress covering a period of six years. Its headquarters at New Brighton is one of a group of thirty supply houses. National Headquarters of the organization is at Cleveland, where large offices are maintained to keep in constant touch with the divisional offices and to cater to their needs. The national offices include a group of trained grocery men, who constantly study the retail grocery business so that Clover Farm Stores will always offer its customers the best of merchandise and service at low prices.

Clover Farm originated in Cleveland in 1926, when a number of retail grocers banded together, decided to pool their buying through one wholesaler, who had handled for many years Clover Farm brand merchandise. Goods packed under the Clover Farm label had already enjoyed in Northern Ohio a reputation for constant high quality. On December 20, 1926, the Cleveland grocers opened their stores under the Clover Farm plan. Basic chain store principles of group buying and advertising were followed closely in the plan of operation. The consuming public showed immediate interest and, within six months, sales had increased twenty-five per cent.

Following the Cleveland opening on December 20, 1926, the widespread publicity and the instantaneous success of Clover Farm Stores aroused the interest of jobbers and retailers in all parts of the country. Many came to Cleveland to learn further details.

The Clover Farm Stores Company had never thought of extending beyond the Cleveland vicinity. Nevertheless, at the urgent request of a Mr. W. L. Shelton, his organization, the Jellico Grocery Company, was given the right to operate Clover Farm Stores in and about West Palm Beach, Fla. Executives from Cleveland, with mingled pride and courtesy, journeyed to Florida and watched the new Clover Farm stores swing open their doors on September 9, 1927.

In the meantime, the Blue Ridge Grocery company, of Asheville, N. C., had investigated the Clover Farm system and decided to adopt the plan in their district. With a complete newspaper announcement including a page of pictures of their stores, the Asheville division staged its Grand Opening Sale on October 15, 1927. On December 2, still another division, sponsored by the South Bend Grocery Company, South Bend, Ind., was launched.

The task of the Cleveland company had grown from chance courtesies to real work. It was impossible for Cleveland executives to jump from one part of the country to another at these very frequent intervals. With this in mind, the member wholesalers looked for a parent organization, a separate company to operate Clover Farm Stores. On February 15, 1928, the Grocers and Producers Company was incorporated, and national headquarters for the rapidly growing chain was established at 4300 Euclid avenue.

As growth steadily continued new ideas were incorporated in the plan. Store layouts were modernized, advertising policies were extended, member retailers were provided with constantly increasing services. Posters were distributed and, finally, a newspaper mat service was provided. On January 1, 1932, a complete reorganization was effected. Member wholesalers purchased the parent organization from its Cleveland owners and Clover Farm became a member-owned corporation. B. B. Fox, general manager of the Fox Grocery Company, a Clover Farm wholesale house in Charleroi, Pa., was elected president. T. Blair Willison, who operated the Blair Willison company, merchandise brokers of Clarkburg, W. Va., and Cumberland, Md., was selected as general manager. Lester H. Lipton, originator of the Clover Farm plan, became operation manager. During this period the Grocers and Producers Company replaced the Grocers and National Headquarters.

During 1932, the personnel of National Headquarters was more than doubled in order to handle increasing services to an ever increasing number of stores.

There are at present Clover Farm divisions with headquarters at the following cities: Athens, Ohio; Benton, Ill.; Butler, Pa.; Calumet, Mich.; Charleroi, Pa.; Concordia, Kans.; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Decatur, Ill.; Findlay, Ohio; Forest Park, Ill.; Greenville, Pa.; Herrin, Ill.; Houghton, Mich.; Ironwood, Mich.; Joliet, Ill.; Junction City, Kans.; Keokuk, Iowa; La Crosse, Wis.; Ludington, Mich.; Madison, Ind.; Manistowic, Wisconsin; Marion, Ill.; Marquette, Mich.; Mt. Vernon, Ill.; Nasha, N. H.; New Brighton, Pa.; Newport, R. I.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Springfield, Ill.; Springfield, Ohio; St. Louis, Mo.; Tyronne, Pa.; Worcester, Mass. Stores are also located at many points in the states of Florida, Georgia, Texas, and North Carolina.

Clover Farm Among First NRA Signers

Clover Farm Stores were among the first national organizations to pledge cooperation toward the adoption of President Roosevelt's temporary blanket code to aid re-employment and business recovery. This action was taken promptly upon the President's call for support in his latest move for economic recovery, and a telegram was sent to General Hugh S. Johnson, director of the National Recovery Act, July 24, 1933, advising him of the corporation's action.

Clover Farm Stores Corporation is cooperating with other food groups in working out a code of trade practices, and the support of the temporary blanket code is pledged pending the adoption of this national food distributing code.

Clover Farm member wholesale grocers and cooperative retail grocers operating in 21 states have signified their intention of cooperating fully with the President's temporary code which aims at re-employment and increase of the nation's purchasing power.

Copy of the telegram sent to General Hugh S. Johnson follows:

"General Hugh S. Johnson,
Director of National Recovery
Act,
Department of Commerce,
Washington, D. C.

WE AND OUR AFFILIATED WHOLESALE GROCERS AND COOPERATIVE RETAIL GROCERS OPERATING IN TWENTY ONE STATES PLEDGE OUR FULL COOPERATION TOWARDS THE ADOPTION OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S TEMPORARY BLANKET CODE PENDING APPROVAL OF A NATIONAL FOOD DISTRIBUTING CODE AND WILL USE OUR COMBINED INFLUENCE WITH OTHER INDEPENDENT RETAIL GROCERS IN THIS DIRECTION.

CLOVER FARM STORES CORPORATION.
B. Blaine Fox, President,
T. Blair Willison, Executive Vice President."

—Clover Farm Stores are independently owned, affecting no prices and good quality through mass buying.

A CLOVER FARM DEALER SPEAKS.

Before I became a member of the Clover Farm Plan four years ago, I gave it much study and thought, and decided it was the one real plan to follow, not only for my benefit, but for the benefit of my customers as well; for after all, a satisfied customer is what a merchant must have to be successful.

After four years of operation under the Clover Farm merchandising plan, my decision has proven correct. The plan has given my customers a wider selection of more attractive foods. It enables me to offer better displays, and fresher foods, and to price my merchandise on a par with the country's leading stores because buying in large quantities with thousands of other members assures my customers low prices for the finest foods. The plan has made it possible to build a closer friendship and understanding with my more than five hundred customers, who have offered many compliments for the service that I have been able to give through the efficiency of Clover Farm Merchandising Methods.

During the past four years I have given Clover Farm Foods every possible test as to quality, and find that merchandise packed under the Clover Farm label is the finest that is possible to produce, and yet it is sold at reasonable prices.

Need of Modern Merchandising Caused Birth of Clover Farm

Its old-fashioned plank floors covered with sawdust, its inviting black stove surrounded by friendly gossipers, its doors covered with signs advertising patent medicine and the coming of John Robinson's Circus, the old independent "general store" is a colorful remnant of our memories. Even today, in remotely rural districts, we occasionally see it in its shadowed seclusion, its porches strewn with rustic individuals discussing local politics as they chew tobacco.

Many of these ragged-looking stores were grocery stores. Where they are existent today, they have the color, the peaceful ruggedness, the simple appeal that they had in days gone by. But—they have no business. Unable to compete with modern ideas of retail selling, some of them stubbornly content in their dark and forlorn retreat from the actualities of the day, they have been deserted by the modern customer, whose pocket book is usually worthy of thoughtful consideration. It would be as sensible to try to sell the modern housewife a horse and carriage instead of an automobile as to try to seek her patronage from the confines of an outworn grocery store instead of a modern establishment.

In recent years, there has been considerable evidence of an attempt at modernizing on the part of the average retail grocer. With the advice of wholesale grocery salesmen, he improved his shelving, read the latest books on modern retailing and subscribed to progressive magazines. He had awakened somewhat to the demands of the day. However, he still found it difficult to compete with the chain and modern methods of doing business owing to the lack of proper operation and leadership. What he needed most was the backing of an organization, helping him with selling and supplying him goods that he might sell at a profit. No matter how enterprising he might have become, the fact that he had to battle along against the combined forces of modern merchandising made his business existence difficult.

The horse and buggy have passed out of the nation's interest because they were supplanted by a machine more modern, faster, and more convenient. The old independent grocer is at the present time being generally replaced by the multiple store, the voluntary and cooperative. Replacement by the corporation owned store looked at first as though it might mean the annihilation of the independent grocer. Then came the realization that he might replace himself with a modern store instead of letting an outsider crowd him out. Thus the Clover Farm system was born. It combines the features the housewife always looks for: home ownership and modern merchandising.

BUTTER
Since the inception of the plan, in securing Clover Farm Butter, nothing but the finest that can be obtained is packed under the Clover Farm brand. The quality of Clover Farm Butter is second to none. It is manufactured by a producer who has been making butter for the past eighty years in America's finest dairy producing territory. Shipments arrive at the Clover Farm warehouse within two days after manufacture, is in turn rushed to Clover Farm retailers at least three times each week.

Immediately after being taken from the churn, Clover Farm Butter is packed in rolls and cartons, placed in modern refrigeration and chilled, then placed in refrigerated fast overland trucks and delivered to the wholesale warehouse, where it is again placed in an air-conditioned refrigerating plant, kept at a temperature of thirty-five degrees.

Clover Farm retailers, upon receipt of Butter from the warehouse, place it in clean refrigerated cases, where it is kept until ordered by the housewife.

Butter could not be handled in a more efficient manner than the plan used by Clover Farm Stores. Purchasers of this famous brand of Butter are assured absolute freshness, highest quality, and perfect flavor.

COFFEE
Realizing the importance of good coffee, and the fact that practically every American home uses it three times a day with their meals, Clover Farm Stores pay particular attention to their coffee.

The national organization maintains a complete buying organization from the source of supply in Brazil, Columbia, and other producing countries through to the roasters in the metropolitan centers, down to the consumer.

The secrets of good coffee are: 1st. Grading and quality of the green beans at the source of supply.

2nd. Proper blending and roasting at the manufacturing plant.

3rd. Proper handling and frequent arrivals of freshly roasted whole bean coffee at the wholesale and retail outlets.

4th. Frequent purchases and proper grading at the retail store insure absolute freshness when it arrives in the consumer's pantry.

Green Cup and Red Cup Coffee are ground at the store to suit either the coffee pot, in which coffee is placed and boiled, the percolator, or the dripolator.

Clover Farm Vacuum Packed Coffee is the finest obtainable, and is kept absolutely fresh until the can is opened through the process of packing under vacuum immediately upon being roasted at the roasting plant.

Enormous quantities of Red Cup, Green Cup, and Clover Farm Coffee are sold throughout the Penn-Ohio Division. Every Clover Farm retailer is proud of these three blends of coffee, and guarantees them absolutely and without reserve.

CLOVER FARM BRIEFS
The following bills of Clover Farm are five a bird's eye view of the National Scope of the Clover Farm organization:

—Forty new Clover Farm Stores have just been opened in the "Egypt" section of Southern Illinois.

—One Clover Farm Supply House—that at Junction City, Kansas—is within a mile of the geographical center of the United States.

—More than a million Clover Farm labels were collected in a recent contest staged in the South East Ohio Division, whose headquarters are at Athens, Ohio.

—The National Clover Farm organization is owned entirely by its wholesale houses and co-operative Clover Farm Retail Grocery Stores in various sections of the United States.

—Clover Farm in six years has opened stores in 25 states.

These companies, the West Penn Power company and the Duquesne Light company, operate captive mines for the production of fuel solely for parent concern consumption. It was the refusal of the H. C. Frick Coke company, operators of captive mines, to sign the soft coal code agreements reached at Washington that provoked the Fayette county coal strike which has spread throughout the entire West-Pennsylvania region.

The agreements affect U. M. W. A., districts No. 3, 4 and 5. These districts include Westmoreland, Greene, Fayette, Allegheny, Butler, Mercer and part of Armstrong counties.

Details of the contracts were to be made public today. It was understood unofficially that one feature of the agreements is a provision for a check-off system under which each union employee will have $1 a month deducted from his wages for union membership in the U. M. W. A.

Ralph Ifft of Zellenople was recently in Koppel where he was the guest at the home of his sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Oriss Ford, Second avenue.

Max Ritter recently returned to his home here following a visit in Chicago, Ill., where he spent a few days at the Century of Progress Exposition and other points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bushman and sons Walter and Robert, Third avenue, motored to Meadville Thursday where they spent the day as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boyd and other friends.

Charles Campbell and Chas. Wetzel, Second avenue, were in Valencia, Pa., on Thursday where they were the guests of relatives and friends. Mrs. Wetzel Sr. returned to Koppel with them and will be the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Wetzel of Second avenue.

A petition was filed at the county court house last week which requested an independent party in Koppel for the general election of November fourth. The party will be called the "Independent party." The petition was signed by Albert Wetzel, C. A. Aldrich, Richard Gasser, S. J. Cross and C. G. Rogers.

After two years of inactivity, the employees of the Koppel Industrial Car and Equipment company are planning to re-organize their bowling league. The former president, H. H. Hoffelt, has already appointed schedule committees and will call a meeting soon. It is planned to have six teams of five men each in the league.

Mrs. Laurel Welsh, Koppel-New Galilee road, was a pleasing hostess on Thursday afternoon when she received members of the M. E. church Ladies Aid Society at her home as they convened for their regular monthly meeting. The regular business was disposed of after which the remainder of the day was spent in sewing, chat and games.

The Koppel M. E. Sunday school church will hold a rally day service on Sunday with the program starting at 9:30 a. m. Rev. Burson announced that talent from a number of churches in this vicinity will participate in the program and a large attendance is anticipated. The Sunday school attendance has been steadily growing and on last Sunday one of the largest attendances in a number of years was recorded.

Ladies Bible class of the Koppel M. E. church held a school day frolic on Wednesday evening in the American Legion hall, Third avenue with about 100 people present. The evening was spent in merry making games, contests, mock shows and other diversions occupying the greater portion of the time. Refreshments were served during the evening for the benefit of the parsonage fund. Suitable prizes were awarded winners of the various contests.

Considerable interest was displayed among the students of the lower grades of the local school this week when the teachers arranged a flower and vegetable show for the pupils. Each one brought a sample of some flower or vegetable from his garden and all were displayed in the rooms during the week. Wednesday judges were appointed and winners were picked and given awards. Many fine specimens were brought by the pupils from their gardens.

County Surveyor Election Costly

Many Voters Write In Name For Office As "Joke"

TAKES LONG TIME TO COUNT BALLOTS

Return judges counting the vote cast at the recent election have not yet completed their totals but expect to have them ready probably by tomorrow. Work of the board has been almost doubled by the failure of electors in many of the country districts to place candidates in the field for some of the minor offices, such as school director.

Spaces were left for the writing in of names and hundreds of names have been written in on ballots. On the prohibition ticket there were no names at all on the ballots, and every prohibitionist had to write in a name.

The greatest loss of time has been on tabulating the vote for county surveyor. More than one hundred different candidates have received votes for this office, even including former President Herbert Hoover and President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It is evident that there are some practical jokers among the electors and their idea of a good joke, has been to write in the name of some candidate for county surveyor. It is said that under the election laws electors are expected to vote for a county surveyor, but the county has no use for a surveyor, and the successful candidate gets no other remuneration than the satisfaction that he has a title.

It is an expensive joke to the taxpayers as it takes considerable time to write in all the names whom the jokers think ought to have the job.

THREE THOUSAND STRIKING MINERS INVADE CLAIRTON

ers staged parades—Parades which broke up and formed again sporadically, hopelessly bottling up traffic.

They shouted their demands for recognition at workers enroute to the mills. They cried out warnings that they were "out to stay until Frick signs the coal code!" It was from the Fayette coal fields controlled by the H. C. Frick Coke company which has not yet signed the code that the invaders came.

In trucks and autos they raced into town from the coal fields of the southwestern Pennsylvania region.

Early this morning they had formed their lines at Waltersburg, near Uniontown, and then began the march to Clairton in an attempt to draw out 6,000 men in the steel plants, to bolster the 10,000 steel workers and the 85,000 holiday miners already on strike.

More than 100 law officers—county horsemen, deputies, company guards and Clairton police—stood by helplessly as the invaders swept into the city.

Little resistance was offered lest a fatal spark be set to the powder-keg of discontent.

3,000 In Mob
There were about 3,000 pickets in the mob. To these were attracted 1,000 spectators who were engulfed in the parades and another thousand and pickets were reported marching northward.

Nine of the pickets were summarily arrested when they refused to obey police orders to "keep moving." Sheriff Gollmar refused to permit the men to gather in idle groups along the sidewalks.

Strong defenses were being built up inside the plant to guard against any attempt by pickets to rush the mill. Besides the sand-bag defense, lines of hose were run out and attached to fire hydrants and steam pipes.

Armed guards were patrolling a bridge over which the mill workers enter the plant. Although the guards were in full view of the pickets, they were not molested.

At one entrance, seven steel coal cars were placed in position to block the gates.

Leave City Limits
Pittsburgh, Sept. 29.—Three thousand picketing miners who took possession of Clairton in a burly-burly invasion this morning moved outside the city limits this afternoon.

For four hours they had paraded up and down the city's main thoroughfare, urging workers at the By-Products plant of the Carnegie Steel company to join them in a sympathy strike. They gained only a few recruits.

Tired and hungry, they began straggling from the city, vowing to return late this afternoon when the steel workers leave the plant.

Disorders In Uniontown Area
Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 29.—Sporadic disorders flared again today along Fayette county's soft coal picket lines, hot-bed of the bituminous holiday which has brought more than 85,000 miners out of the pits, as state police were rushed from here to Clairton.

Turbulent demonstrations were reported at several of the H. C. Frick Coke company tips, particularly at Colonial No. E mine where non-union workers fired upon pickets and threw bricks. No serious injuries were reported.

Two non-union workers were pushed over a hillside by pickets as the miners hurled stones and bricks at several carloads of pickets.

Other flurries of disorders broke out during the night and this morning when pickets blocked the company stores at the Frick company "patches" and sought to prevent housewives from purchasing food and supplies.

More Miners Join
Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 29.—Another 6,000 miners in Cambria county and 3,000 more in Somerset county joined the Western Pennsylvania bituminous coal holiday today, virtually ending all operations in the central western sector of the soft coal field.

The walkouts brought to more than 85,000 the total number of miners on strike in the soft coal belt of the state.

Pickets from Cambria mines drew out their fellow workers in that field this morning at mines that operated yesterday. The contingent of Fayette and Westmoreland county pickets which spread the strike to this field yesterday halted work at the Somerset tipple.

Josiah Thompson Funeral Services Being Held Today

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 29.—The last chapter in the veritable story-book life of Josiah Van Kirk was written today when he died at the Ellwood City hospital.

Following the shooting Ellis was removed to the Ellwood City hospital, while Straley was taken into custody by two neighbors, who turned him over to the Koppel chief of police, Frank Ferrigno, who in turn placed him in the custody of the county detective of Beaver county and the state police of that district.

According to the authorities, Straley and Ellis, who reside but a short distance apart, became involved in an argument over some property in the late afternoon Thursday. Straley attempted to intimidate the wife of Ellis, the authorities state, and Ellis became angry and took Straley to task. Straley went to his home, secured a 25-calibre automatic and returned. The argument and shooting occurred at the Ellis home.

At the Ellwood City hospital this afternoon it was stated that the wound of Ellis was not believed to be serious.

LOVE SPEAKS AT BANKERS' DINNER

Forty bank officers and directors, representing almost every banking institution in Lawrence County, heard Robert C. Love, official of the First National Bank of Lawrence County, this city, give a masterful review of the Federal Banking Act of 1933, at a dinner of the Lawrence County Bankers Association in The Castleton last night.

An informal discussion of the new legislation followed Mr. Love's able message.

The banker's dinner-meeting last night substituted for the traditional September tour of Lawrence county farms.

RUMBAUGH NAMED LEADER OF HI-Y

Jim Marshall Is Vice President For Season—After New Members

The first meeting of the Senior Hi-Y was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday, September 25. Club activities, including football, wrestling and dances, were planned for the coming semester. A membership drive was launched, the goal being to enroll fifty members. The following committees were appointed to serve during the Hi-Y season: Membership committee: James Fox, chairman; Ralph Davies, Bill Bowers and James Carey. Activities committee: Heber Baldwin, chairman; Bill Bovard, James Marshall and Harold Young.

Officers for this season are as follows: President—Howard Rumbaugh. Vice president—James Marshall. Secretary—Ralph Davies. Treasurer—Bill Bovard. Faculty supervisor—Robert Mills.

Girl Reserve Close New Membership Roll

Ne-Ca-Hi Group Has 89 On New Term's List—Form Interest Groups

The weekly meeting of the Senior High Girl Reserve was held on Monday of this week in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. This was the final opportunity to enroll as a member. The officers were kept busy accepting applications for membership. A total of 89 girls have signed up. The president, Jane Bechtol, did not be present, but Katy Dannels, the vice president, ably performed her duties. Devotionals opened the meeting, which was in the form of a violin recital. Dorothy Baldwin and Eleanor Matt were the violinists, while Dorothy Fisher accompanied them. Their selection was "The Lost Chord". Several girls then spoke concerning the aims of the various interest groups. The dramatic group, supervised by Miss Geraldine Turk, is intent on dramatizing three plays for the public. The talent will be supplied entirely from the club. The handicraft group under direction of Miss Martha Smith makes the clever programs, tallies and decorations for the special events and parties. This semester they will also make the stage decorations and have charge of the costuming. The basketball group, coached by Miss Sarah McGoun, will repeat and better its successful standing in last year's games. Last year, out of twenty games played, fourteen were victories for the Girl Reserves.

There are also other possibilities of interest groups. A music club and a bowling team will be organized if a sufficient number of members so desire. These interest groups meet every other week, a general meeting being held the alternating week.

The final business was the reading of the new constitution by Secretary Charlotte Withers. It was voted upon and a few changes were made, but on the whole, it was very satisfactory.

The entertainment of the evening was a skit enacted by Donna Jean Beall, Jean Casselman, Pauline Booher, and Corrie Brewster. The climax of the skit came as a surprise to all. The meeting was adjourned with the announcement that the Recognition services would be held next Monday, October 2.

Term's Schedule Inaugurated By Miss McGoun; Groups Are Smaller

Girls' gym classes began on Monday of this week. These classes could not start sooner, as the schedules of the girls were not yet permanently arranged. Miss Sarah McGoun, the instructress, is still kept busy making a few necessary changes.

Since the boys no longer take gym, it is possible to have six periods each day during the week except Friday. Thus it is possible to have smaller classes than was formerly possible. The average class now numbers about 60. This number insures better instruction than formerly when there were from 80 to 100 girls taking gym at the same time.

Each girl has gym twice a week. Those who take gym Monday have it again same period on Wednesday, and those who have it Tuesday repeat on Thursday.

Each class is divided into four squads. A girl who is outstanding in gymnastics is chosen by Miss McGoun to be the leader for each group. The squad leaders must be present at all times and each checks the attendance of her squad and gives the minus points or plus points, as the case may be. Squad leaders also referee games of basketball, captain ball, newcomb, and other games played throughout the term.

As to apparel, the girls wear the blue regulation gym suits, blue socks, and white tennis shoes. The squad leaders wear the two-piece, blue middie and bloomer regulation squad leader suits, white ties, blue socks, and white tennis shoes. Inspection is held every six or eight weeks. Although the girls' suits and shoes must be clean and neat at all times, the squad leaders' must be even more immaculate as they are examples to all the others. When exercising simultaneously, a picturesque spectacle is presented.

COUNCIL PLANS WORK The student council held its regular meeting Wednesday, with Bob Allen, presiding. The following committees were appointed:

Ways and means: Ralph Davies, Jane Bechtol, Bill Shira. General improvement: Wallace Byers, Lawrence Bennett.

Student count: Evelyn Van Buren, Becky Carson, Abe Abraham. A nominating committee consisting of Richard Ramsey, Ruth Shale, and Bill Shira was named for the purpose of taking care of the election of representatives. Various means of improving the lunch room situation were discussed, but nothing definite was decided upon. Ways of providing badges for members were received and a committee was appointed to get bids on them. Other minor activities were talked over, and the meeting was adjourned.

SCHOOL PERSONALS Joe Howley, popular football star, is in the New Castle hospital with an infected ear.

A few students are still visiting the World's fair at Chicago. George Conway journeyed to the fair last week-end, and George Maud expects to visit the exposition this week. Many students plan to go later on in the fall.

Prof. Nicholas Casillo, of the Senior high faculty, spoke before the Kiwanis club Wednesday. He was introduced by Heber Baldwin, president of the Senior A class and a junior Kiwanian.

A large delegation of high school students and teachers is expected to attend the football game at Charleroi tonight. Archie Ridley, member of the football squad, was slightly injured in last Friday's game with Ellwood City.

TO REORGANIZE GROUP Plans are being formulated for the reorganization of the French group, with Miss Kelly as sponsor. Members will be enrolled from the students of the advanced French classes next week and the group will meet every Tuesday, third period.

Young East Side Merchant In Charge Of Growing Business

Saturday will mark the tenth anniversary of David Suosio's advent into the business world, which he will observe with the first anniversary sale he has held in this time, and will offer many attractive bargains to the citizens of New Castle on this occasion at his store, 705 Butler avenue.

Ten years ago Mr. Suosio started into business with a small grocery store, handling only groceries, fruits and vegetables. Since that time his business has grown apace, until now the building which he owns and occupies is three times as large as the store in which he started, and an up-to-date meat market has been added.

Mr. Suosio carries only the best products, the largest percentage of his merchandise being purchased from local wholesalers. He also patronizes farmers of the New Castle district as much as possible.

He has been a resident of the east side for 25 years, is cooperating with the NRA and is looked upon as one of the outstanding business men of the east side.

Paul Niininen is in full charge of the meat department, while Mr. Suosio himself manages the rest of the store. Delivery service is maintained to all parts of the city.

Harvey D. Studebaker Seeks $ 5,161.50 From Samuel L. Maxwell

Harvey D. Studebaker, of Perry township, has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Samuel L. Maxwell of Oil City, to collect $5,161.56, as the result of an automobile accident at the Pennsylvania crossing on East Washington street.

Studebaker claims that there was a street car stopped on the west side of the crossing. He was on the south side of the street car. As he did so he claims that the Maxwell car passed the street car on the left hand side, and struck him. He was painfully injured and was laid up for some time.

Henry Wilson, who was vice president of the United States from March 4, 1873, until his death, Nov. 22, 1875, was christened Jeremiah Jones Colbath. He did not state the reason for the change.

Would Include Coal In Relief

Eric Biddle, Emergency Relief Director, Asks Gov. ernment To Supply Coal

THOUSANDS OF HEATLESS HOMES

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 29.—Taking cognizance of President Roosevelt's plan to spend $75,000,000 for surplus products to be distributed to the needy, Eric Biddle, executive director of the State Emergency Relief board, today suggested that coal be included in the list.

Biddle recommended to the Federal Emergency Relief Administration that bituminous and anthracite coal be purchased and distributed to the unemployed and destitute during the winter.

employed Pennsylvania miners to go back to work." Biddle estimated that more than a million tons of coal will be needed this winter for relief in Pennsylvania alone. While the coal production in this state dwindled from 215,000,000 tons in 1929 to less than 124,000,000 tons in 1932, mine employment dropped 47 per cent, Biddle stated.

New Food Relief
Several weeks ago Thomas Murphy, associate editor of the Scranton Times, urged Gov. Gifford Pinchot to recommend this action to the federal authorities. Later, several coal officials from the anthracite region carried the proposal to Washington.

Biddle also disclosed that a new schedule of food relief is being put into operation in this state. The plan, approved by leading doctors and nutritionists' calls for an increase scale of food relief to be inaugurated as rapidly as families can be re-visited to determine their needs.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer.

Editor The News:

Dear Sir:—
With your kind permission, I would like to use some of your valuable space. I am here enjoying a sixty day vacation from the Macabee Home at Chatham. While here I am assisting and advising my daughter, Rev. Mrs. A. E. Guthrie of The Spiritualist Church of Truth.

With regard to the home at Chatham, it is all that any man could desire, even in the finest hotels or homes. There are only two things that the guest there does not receive and that is transportation and postage. It is a home that every one of us is proud of and it is a place that any fraternal order might well take pride in.

All guests that can, work and receive pocket money monthly. While here I am in no sense in the care of the order or the superintendent, Dr. Luke. My daughters signed my vacation papers and assumed all responsibility for my welfare until I return to the home.

I am not thinking of or worrying about the home as it will take care of itself and it is up to me to take care of myself. At the home I am interested in a garden, which is 318 by 75 feet in size. In the garden were Ponderosa, commonly called Beefsteak tomatoes, some of which were 16½ inches around and weigh one and one half pounds. I had taken 812 to the kitchen before coming here on a visit. I also look after the driveway.

Any Macabee brother, who wishes information concerning our home, can secure all the information that he desires from me. We have no set rules. Every brother is expected to be a real man and take an interest in the home, which is his home as long as he desires, as every guest has the privilege of leaving when he desires. All who desire to do so are welcome to come and see the home for themselves.

"Three washes a week . . yet their clothes stay bright"

mother of three babies says

"NO THIN SPOTS, or frayed edges, or dull, dirty color on this year-old yellow suit that Chipso regularly soaks clean," says Mrs. Fell.

Bright, strong, good for MANY MORE MONTHS OF WEAR, this pink novelty cotton dress is washed regularly with Chipso.

FIFTY TIMES or more, this white dotted Swiss dress has gone into Chipso suds dirty and come out DAZZLING WHITE—with no hard rubbing to wear it thin.

"THREE TIMES A WEEK for two months," Mrs. Fell told us, "a quick squeeze through safe Chipso suds has made this sheer baby dress ready for more good wear."

"I began using Chipso several years ago because a neighbor said it made the best suds," Mrs. Harvey Fell of Wilmington, Del., told us. "When I tried it I thought so, too. But I found out something even more important—Chipso doesn't fade colored clothes, or hurt my hands, or harm even silks and woolsens!"

"The children get so many clothes dirty that we wash two and three times a week. It wouldn't take long for the clothes to wear out if we put them into harsh soap as often as that! But with Chipso the colors hold up and the materials don't get thin and sleazy."

No hard rubbing

"Besides, with Chipso, you don't have to break your back scrubbing. Dirt soaks right out in those good suds! One washday's hard rubbing is equal to months of actual wear on clothes, so I think they are bound to wear longer if you wash them this softer Chipso way."

"I certainly do like Chipso suds. They don't break down no matter how much dirty work you call on them to do in the wash tub, or in the dish pan and scrubbing pail. Yet they are as easy as a good toilet soap on my hands."

Chipso is not adulterated with the harsh substances contained in inferior soaps which gradually weaken fabrics and dull their color. Chipso loosens dirt harmlessly by RICHER SUDS. That is why Chipso-washed clothes stay new-looking for years.

Don't endanger the clothes you have spent good money for by washing them in cheap flakes or strong granulated soaps and powders. Get Chipso from your grocer. At its low price, Chipso is the biggest value in rich, safe soap on the market today!

William Braatz Gets Great Fish

Brings Home Evidence Of Success At Pigeon Lake, Ontario, Canada

William Braatz, of 412 Croton avenue, has established his reputation as a fisherman as a result of an immense Muskellunge, sometimes called Muskellunge, which he caught in Pigeon Lake, Ontario, Canada, with an ordinary casting pole and a No. 8 Buffalo spinner.

The fish frozen in a full sized cake of ice is on exhibition in the window of the Sporting Goods Store on East Washington street and is attracting much attention. With it is shown the spinner and pole with which Mr. Braatz landed it.

The fish is 42 inches in length and weighs fifteen pounds.

FORMER AMERICANS RETURN FROM FRANCE

(International News Service) NEW YORK—About 800 former American soldiers who married and settled down in France after the war was over, are homeward bound with their families, penniless, having been refused aid by the French government other than their passage to New York, according to Maurice Stember, New York agent of the American Legion.

The men had no dependents in this country and married French girls, setting in the French cities and villages, supporting themselves and family until the depression came along when they were forced to seek relief. Eight or nine months ago the French government announced there would be no more aid except to French citizens.

Girl Scouts May Spread To County

Pulaski And New Wilmington
Discuss Forming Of Lone
Girl Scout Troops

If the present plans of the New Castle Girl Scout organization materialize there will be, this fall, several lone Girl Scout troops in Lawrence county.

The proposal has been met with enthusiasm by Pulaski, and there seems to be equal interest manifest at New Wilmington. If the lone troops are organized, they will have their own troop committee to supervise their activities, but will be "under the wing" of the New Castle Girl Scout Council. The New Castle organization will train their leaders, help them in their problems, take them into camp, etc.

Aside from Ellwood City with its thriving crowd of 100 scouts, there have been no Girl Scouts in any part of Lawrence county but New Castle. New Wilmington had an organization of Camp Fire Girls at one time. It is believed that great interest will be shown in the lone Girl Scout movement this year.

New Castle At Charleroi For Football Game

First Class AA Conference Game Of 1933 Season For New Castle Tonight

LINEUP IS NOT DECIDED UPON

Eyes of the scholastic sport world of western Pennsylvania will be directed on Charleroi, Penna., tonight, where the New Castle high school football team and Charleroi high will battle under the flood lights in the first important meeting of the Class AA Conference. The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

The New Castle high school grid team about 35 strong set out for Charleroi at 1 o'clock this afternoon by bus. Those in the party will be Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh, Assistant Coaches Klee and Thomas, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, Captain Walter Komic, Charles "Whitey" Nickum, Freddy Lane, Archie Ridley, Frank Humphrey, Louis Sorto, Bill Seeth, Fred Sheldog, Alec Sheldog, Walter Raskowski, Charles Fleming, Jack Hitchen, Mike Perrett, Harry Tuscano, Frank Crisel, Clarence Workman, McClellan, Charles James, Frank Hamilton, Peter Capitolo, George Kneram, George Miles, "Ruffles" Johns, Palkovitch, McPeak, Humbert Gianni, Ostrosky, S. Komic, Gackowski, and DeMartini.

It is about 90 miles from here to Charleroi, and the New Castle team was due to arrive in the Magic City about 4 o'clock.

New Castle Ready
New Castle High faces the toughest team on the 1933 schedule according to Coach Bridenbaugh, and all week long the New Castle boys have been hard at work at Taggart Field, perfecting a forward passing attack, trying to break up passes, and learning new and tricky plays.

Charleroi has two fine players in Zalom, the big fullback and Pysinski the center. They will cause New Castle a lot of trouble. Coach Steve Stephanian has the habit of turning out strong eleven at Charleroi and the team this year is no exception.

New Castle enters the game tonight without the services of several regulars it is indicated. It may be that Coach Bridenbaugh will send Alec Sheldog into the game if the going gets tough, but Sheldog has not been out for practice all week with a badly injured leg. Archie Ridley is on the mend after having several ribs severely bumped in the Ellwood City game. Joe Howley is out of the game indefinitely with an ear ailment.

Charleroi Excited
It is with foreboding that Coach Bridenbaugh enters the fair of the Cougars tonight to do them battle. Well does "Bridy" recognize the ability of Stephanian to turn out good teams. New Castle beset with injuries may not be up to standard. This is the first time in the history of New Castle High that they have played a night game away from home. It also marks the first time that any New Castle High school team has played in Charleroi. The crowd tonight in event of good weather will be the biggest in the history of Charleroi High school football. New Castle will be the attraction. The famed "Red Hurricane" of 1932 will appear again.

Class AA Program
Other Class AA games carded for Friday and Saturday this week are as follows:

Friday Games
Burgelstein vs. Washington.
McKeesport vs. Monaca.
Saturday Games
New Kensington at Norwin.
Uniontown at Clairton.
Mt. Pleasant at Greensburg.
East Huntingdon at Jeannette.
Bell Township at Turtle Creek.

Irish Veterans Pick Up Steam

(International News Service)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 29.—Presumably there is nothing wrong with Notre Dame's veteran trio of backfield men.

Threatened with losing their jobs to a promising group of sophomore ball carriers, Nick Lukats, Ray Brancheau and Steve Banas ripped through a reserve team in scrimmage yesterday for repeated long gains.

Northwestern To Play Iowa

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Football teams of Northwestern and Iowa went through final drills today at Soldier Field for the game here tomorrow which will raise the 1933 Western Conference gridiron curtain.

Governors of three states will attend the game as guests of National American Legion officials. Governors Clyde Herring of Iowa, Henry Horner of Illinois and Paul V. McNutt of Indiana plan to attend.

POLO MATCH AT ZELIENOPLE FIELD

The North Park Polo club of Pittsburgh and the Old Furnace team of Zelenople will tangle at the Zelenople field Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to an announcement today from J. Louis Passavant. The lineup will probably include: North Park: Foster, Smith and Larrick. The Old Furnace team, McCormick, Lambert and Wilson.

College Gridders Ready For Start Of 1933 Season

Most Of Big College Teams Will Have "Warm-up" Games On Saturday

PITT AND W. & J. AT PITTSBURGH

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Picking football winners is like getting married—you never know what's going to happen.
And every time you make a mistake, you come right back for more punishment. But just like marriage, there doesn't seem to be any cure for it—so away we go.

In the East Pittsburgh seems to have the toughest job, but they turn out real teams at Pitt and the Panthers should win from Washington and Jefferson tomorrow.

Warm-Up Games
Army can't miss picking on brave little Mercer. Neither can Fordham with Albright, and Navy will get revenge by winning this time from William and Mary, which shook the heavens last season by dumping the Middles.

In the mid-west all the Big Ten teams have pretty minor opponents Saturday with Illinois named over Drake, Minnesota over South Dakota state and Indiana over Miami. Marquette should turn back Lawrence, Kansas down Creighton and Vanderbilt take a close one from Oklahoma, Carleton will hardly bother Iowa.

Easy Games On Coast
California as usual will furnish plenty of action with Stanford winning from U. C. L. A., the eleven that humbled the Palo Alto genies last year. Southern California will romp over Loyola of Los Angeles, which somehow or another held the Trojans to a single touchdown when they last met. Washington State looks considerably better than the College of Puget Sound, Oregon State is better than Montana and Washington rates above Idaho.

California, licked last week, ought to even things somewhat by taking a twin bill from California Aggies and Nevada.
In the South Duke should register over V. M. I. Other successful southern efforts will probably include North Carolina over Davidson, Tennessee over Virginia Poly, Georgia over North Carolina State, Georgia Tech over Clemson, Alabama over Oglethorpe, Tulane over Texas A. & M., Kentucky over Sewanee and Louisiana over Rice.

Tonight Coach Glen Warner, the former Stanford mentor, sends his Temple team against South Carolina and Temple should win. And if the owls don't the fans needn't complain. "Pop" has a barrel of new vaudeville stuff, with a lot of entertaining razzle-dazzle and a sparkling back-drop, to unveil.

Football League Will Be Formed

Plans are under way for the organization of an independent football league for this fall. Franklin Crisel, well known Croton sportsman, is at the head of the movement to have a fast circuit here.

The following teams are invited to send in their player lists to Franklin Crisel, 1005 Croton avenue, by Saturday of next week: Williams A. C., Croton A. C., Marcellas, Tolan A. C., Highland A. Stars, Clifton Flats, West Side All-Stars and any others wishing to join the league.

A boy-wonder manager seems to be one who has a collection of about twelve superior ball players.

Week End High School Games To Show Calibre Of Many Grid Teams

While it's a little early to tell definitely just what will happen in Class AA Conference games this year the scores turned in by the so-called bigger schools against "warm up" teams this season have failed to impress.
Monessen High lost to Little Duquesne 13 to 7 in a "breather." East McKeesport High took Norwin into camp last week 12 to 6 for an upset. These scores do not have a bearing on the Class AA championship, but give some idea of the strength of the Class AA teams, and that probably they will be beaten by some of the teams in their own class.
McKeesport high while not being defeated this year has played two deadlocked games with Glassport 0-0 and Scott High 6-6.
The other nine teams have won

Local Golfers In Return Match

Will Play Pittsburgh Municipal Golfers On Schenley Course Next Month

STRONG TEAM IS BEING SELECTED

An invitation has just been received from M. H. Boscher chairman of the Tournament Committee Schenley Park Golf Association, asking local golfers to be their guests in a return match on the Schenley Course on October 15.

The invitation is to be accepted and a strong team will be secured to invade the Smoky City where they will oppose some of the leading golfers of the Pittsburgh district who are members of the Schenley team. It will be remembered that Pittsburgh won the event which was played on the Municipal Course here during July, but only after they were brought to the realization that New Castle boasts some real golfers, too.

The same players who participated in the match here are asked to take part in the coming event. Players will be selected from the three local courses and are asked to not Charles E. Allen at The News, whether or not they will be able to take part.

West Virginia Will Test Dukes

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—Coach Elmer Layden trots his "night riders" out under the mazes at Forbes Field tonight for Duquesne's annual shindig with West Virginia U.

Both teams are about on par. The slight weight advantages the Mountaineers average over Duquesne is offset by injuries plaguing coach "Greasy" Neale's set up. One, Eck Allen, rumored to be one of the best quarterbacks in West Virginia University history, and possibly two other regulars will be found on the sidelines with ailments at the kickoff.

Coach Layden is in a position to invoke full power of his first team there having been no disasters in the Dukes two previous games. Too, he will have "Toots" Fillingham, whose spectacular work has him crowding the "seeded" backfield men for starting jobs, available in case the going gets rough. A eleven-hour field goal game Duquesne a 3-0 victory in last year's meeting.

Cronin Keeps Fans Guessing As To Pitcher

Manager Joe Cronin Will Not Let It Be Known Who Will Hurl The First Game

GIANTS CAN'T FIGURE IT OUT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—It's doubtful too early to be alarmed, for the big event is four days away and perhaps in the meantime cooler heads will prevail. Moreover, there are all kinds of ugly rumors in circulation before a sports championship, so until such time as the truth is available I propose to ignore the unconfirmed report that this is to be one of those intellectual world series, abetted and incited to this point by the local behavior of Mr. Joe Cronin.

Mr. Cronin is the boy manager who seems to have mastered the art of saying nothing very soothingly and with the air of one who ponders deeply. The young man is in town on business. His new champions, the Senators, are playing out the string against the old, in this case none other than the Yankees, now winded and blowsy like an old sourette. In the circumstances, New York feels that the young man ought to circulate a little, while delivering himself of some very arresting statements.

Giants Thinking.
Instead, he just stands around and ponders. This is not only disturbing but contagious. He's even got the Giants thinking, which is a great strain upon all concerned.

Some of them think he will pitch Monte Weaver in the opening game of the series on Tuesday, either conceding the game to Hubbell or, in beating him with an off-the-record pitcher, practically close out the series right under the gun. Another Giant, Gus Mancuso, thinks he will pitch Walter Stewart. What Mr. Cronin himself thinks, Mr. Cronin is neglecting to state.

"I'll do just as I've always done," says he. "I'll pitch my best against their best."

The last manager who said that before a world series was Cornelius Mack of Philadelphia, who thereupon came up for the opening game with Howard Ehmke. The latter, on his record that year, couldn't figure to beat Peoria in an exhibition but, after he turned in a matchless performance against the Cubs, Mr. Mack's choice was hailed as the master stroke of all thinking.

Ehmke Chosen.

However, I've always suspected that he reached his decision early in this case and just stayed with it. If he had thought too much about it, in fact, he might have wound up by having Ehmke arrested for impersonating a ball player.

Anyhow, in playing the next two series with the Cards, Mr. Mack abandoned all guile and even became so logical as to use stars like Grove and Earnshaw in their regular turn. So, all in all, we really haven't had a first rate job of master-minding since 1923.

That was the year John McGraw decided to win the series by deep thinking. But as the games progressed, the Yankees went in more and more for deep hitting, so that in the end John was most mortified. He found that, no matter how profound you meditate, you cannot think your pitcher into a double play with the bases filled nor your center fielder into a Saturday, Sunday and holiday catch against the wall with two out in the ninth.

Good Pitchers.

Maybe young Mr. Cronin ought to be told about that. If it is really true that he spends his time plotting darkly. Our Mr. Ruth, by the way, says it is not true.

"Naw," said he. "Why should he feel around with his pitchers. He's got three good ones in Whitehill, Crowder and Stewart. Whitehill's the toughest of the lot, with a great curve ball and a good high hard one. Do you gamble with somebody else when you have guys like that?"

However, Mr. Ruth has always been pretty much of a "naw" guy on the strategic side of the game and nobody's going to drive up in a hearse and say he was wrong, at that.

After all, there's nothing intellectual about a good, old fashioned poke into the center field bleachers.

REVIVE TENPIN BOWLING
Revival of professional bowling in New Castle has come with a tenpin team of local stars. The New Castle team will be in Beaver and Lawrence county tenpin league along with Rochester, Beaver, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City and Aliquippa. New Castle recently defeated the Ellwood City team two out of three games.

Winners May Enter Tourney

Monday Night's Fistic Card Possesses Well Known Boys

TWO RETURN BOUTS SCHEDULED MONDAY

Sixteen boxers who will participate in eight Amateur Athletic union scraps Monday night at Castle bowl hope to further their prestige so that they will be welcomed entries in the proposed Golden Glove tournament proposed for Pittsburgh in the near future. According to reports the tourney may contain 1000 boxers and there is no question but that some of the lads who are engaged to swap punches here Monday night will figure prominently in the meet.

During the past year there has been considerable difficulty encountered mating George Rocco, the heavy fisted brother of Emmett the professional. He has cut a wide swath in the 160 pound amateur circles and is scheduled to meet a rugged, hard-hitting opponent in Jack Smith, of Youngstown, in the Monday night whirl.

Another chap who should go far up the ladder is Custy Marino, who won the lightweight championship of the Farrell tourney. Custy opposes Sammy Cretella, a flashy 135 pound boxer here. Marino is regarded as one of the best amateurs in this section. He can sock.

There is no question but that Mickie Cutie of Youngstown, could go far along the tourney's route. He beat all the flyweights in Youngstown and outpointed Nick Galore of New Kensington to capture the Farrell flyweight title. He battles Jim Drago of Farrell here.

Hot Scrap Ahead

There'll be a hot scrap between Tony Adamo, this city and Ray Atkinson of Ellwood City. Tony is a puncher but inclined to swing wildly. Atkinson is not such a terrific puncher but keeps punching a la Teddy Yaroz and is rated good among the 145 pounders.

Joey Evans of Ellwood City has a neat record but will have plenty of opposition when he tangles with aggressive Young Taleric of Beaver Falls. They are 122 pounders and there should not be a dull moment in their match.

And neither should there be any dull minutes in the return bout between Lew Tamber of Farrell and Yankee Pagley, this city, 118 pounders. Yankee was awarded the decision August 28. Some of the fans believe the award was not justified, hence a return bout.

Frankie Cantanese, Rochester, Pa., training partner of Teddy Yaroz, is in fine condition now and will take on either Gene Carines of Campbell or Cecil McCurdy of Farrell. They will weigh between 165 and 170 for Monday night's scrap.

Considerable interest is being shown in the Frankie Rachig-Larry Weaver lightweight scrap. Rachig is a Bessemer boy tutored by Jimmie Dime and Weaver is a New Castle boy who is being taught by Paris Cangey, formerly one of Dime's lightweight.

The first bout Monday night will start in the enclosed bowl at 8:45 p. m. regardless of weather conditions as fans are protected from the elements. Crowds have increased with each show and a crowd of several thousand is expected to occupy the big bowl.

Zelenople At Bessemer Today

Bessemer Has Lost One Game; Zelenople In Tie Game

Bessemer high and Zelenople high will play at Bessemer this afternoon. The game will start at four p. m. Bessemer lost to Sharpville last week and one year ago the Bessemer-Zelenople game ended 13 to 13. Zelenople tied the game in the last few minutes of the game when one of Zelenople's stalwarts raced 85 yards for a touchdown.

Bessemer had several gridders injured in the opening game but Zelenople came through the 7-7 deadlock with Shenango without any injuries.

Union Is Ready For Bridgeville

Coach Dave Boyd Puts The Union High Team Thru Stiff Workouts

Lineup Changed To Give Union Better Offense; Game Saturday

Union high school football team hopes to travel the right road Saturday afternoon at the Union high field, when they will play the fast Bridgeville high football team. The game will start at 2:30 p. m. It is the first home game for the Unionites. Coach David Morgan Boyd has drilled the Union team hard all week. A changed lineup is being counted upon to give Union a better offensive and defensive system.

White On End.

One of the important changes that took place Thursday afternoon was the switching of Wayne White, the Union star, to an end position. White is one of the mainstays of the team and will be valuable man at end. On the other end of the line will be Wimer. The tackles will be taken care of by Gierlach and Rudesille, which gives Union a pair of powerful big tackles. Richey will draw down the center job and Kirker and Jaskolka will take up the burden at the guard posts. Kirker was formerly an end and has been converted into a guard. Joe Todd still retains the quarterbacking job, with Morrison and Monico fighting it out for the right half position and Bozar almost sure to start at left half. The fullbacking will be in the hands of Captain Georgacz.

Better Spirit.

The Union team has shown a better spirit this week in the practice sessions, according to Coach Boyd. The first two games on the 1933 program were defeats, Ellwood City and Evans City dishing out the dirt. Union will depend a lot on aerial thrusts tomorrow. Union is given an outside chance to take the Bridgeville team into camp.

In event of good weather a fine crowd will no doubt be present as the Union team takes the field before a home crowd for the first time.

The "Buy Now" campaign has been set to music—undoubtedly with emphasis on the "do". The Seattle Daily Times.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Belle Beach, famous 31-year-old mare, is dead at Mexico, Mo. Belle Beach, with an exceptional array of tan bark tricks, thrilled horse show audiences throughout the nation, showing at the Chicago International, the American Royal in Kansas City, the St. Louis horse show and was an exhibition feature in the later years of her ring appearances.

Cusky Marino, Ellwood City lightweight, who has become a favorite here plans to enter the Golden Glove tournament to be staged in Pittsburgh. He indicated several days ago he would affiliate with the Jefferson A. C. Indications point to other boys boxing under the colors of the local athletic club which is making progress in the A. A. U. ranks. Mickie Cutic, flyweight of Campbell, has been trying to land a job here so he can enter under the Jefferson A. C. banner. No doubt, Tony Adamo, the local 147 pounder, Yankee Pagley, bantamweight and other lads will wear the Blue and White if the Pittsburgh meet materializes. The Jefferson is not only interested in boxing but will probably have a good basketball team and go in for skating if Cascade Park is open to meet this winter.

Commissioner K. M. Landis having refused to reconsider his appointment of official scorers for the series between the White Sox and the Cubs, the baseball writers of Chicago have announced they would regard Herb Simons of the Chicago Times and Eddie Munzel of the Chicago Herald-Examiner as official scorers instead of those named by Landis.

Equipose, king of the handicap thoroughbreds, will be retired after his race in the Havre de Grace handicap Saturday, according to Tom Healey, trainer of the son of Pennant and Swinging. Cornelius Vanderbilt, owner, has no intention of putting Equipose in any match race, the trainer said.

Cy Young, famous big league hurler of other days, came back to the mound at Dover yesterday in his old Boston uniform to face a group of baseball youths, and the boys appreciated it so much that three of the Cleveland Indians struck out in the first inning. But after the old-timer left the box the Indians pounded other pitchers so hard the game was called in the eighth because of a shortage of balls, with the Tribe ahead, 14 to 4. The folks present stuck the balls in their pockets when they were knocked out of the lot.

After witnessing the Jack Sharkey-Tommy Loughran bout at Philadelphia, Benny Leonard said: "They both ought to hang up the gloves." According to reports both have gone back. It is unlikely that either will. Sharkey got $25,000 for the fight, and $25,000 won't be sneezed at by Sharkey despite the fact he has plenty. Tommy is said to need money. In the old days he was the personification of cleverness and for 12 rounds stabbed Sharkey around. In the last three rounds, however, his spirit was willing but his flesh was weak, and he was forced to adopt an entirely defensive style to weather the barrage of punches Sharkey threw, according to eastern reports.

Presents Cups At Golf Party

Municipal Course Champions And Golf League Champions Honored Last Night

GOOD PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Formal presentation of the cups, which were won by local golf champions, individually and collectively, this summer, was made at the golf party held last evening at the Municipal golf course.

W. M. Nunn, who won his second title as Municipal champion, and the East Side Service team, winners of the New Castle Golf League title this summer, were honored. In addition, prizes were presented to Robert Thompson, who was medalist during the city title eliminations; and to M. K. Gilliland, runner-up.

L. B. Round, of the Municipal Course Advisory Committee, made the presentation to Mr. Nunn, and the latter in turn, presented the cup to the golf league champions.

Mr. Nunn, in accepting the cup, emblematic of the championship, stated that he has played on about a dozen municipal courses, and has seen at least thirty others, but that he has yet to see a municipal course which can compare with the local layout.

During the course of the evening, music was rendered by Pearsall's Rube orchestra, composed of Rex Patch, pianist; L. A. Pearsall, violinist; Grant Parks, banjoist; and De Lace Cole, boner. A quartet, composed of William Wheldon, Richard Johns, Billy Williams, and Leonard Kisthart, also rendered a number of popular selections which were greatly appreciated.

Cards were also enjoyed during the evening, and in conclusion, lunch was served.

Mrs. W. G. Fleming was chairman of the program committee for the evening, and was assisted by W. M. Nunn, and Joe McCann.

GAME PLAYED AT ELLWOOD CITY

Ben Franklin Junior High football team played a scoreless 0-0 deadlock with the fast Ellwood City High Reserves Thursday afternoon at Ellwood City. Neither team was able to score. The playing was fast and furious in every period.

Metz and Meniece were the best bets in the Ellwood City lineup in the backfield and Arkwright was the best on the line. For the Franklin team the playing of Outowski and Jokinen was the best on the defense.

Former Local Man Is Cup Contender

New Castle people are looking to the President's Cup race on the Potomac river Friday and Saturday with more than ordinary interest this year. A former New Castle man, George C. Reis is entered in the race and is considered to be a leading contender for the cup.

The race is for motor boats of 625 cubic inches displacement. When Calvin Coolidge was in the president's chair he donated a gold cup to be sought for each year. Mr. Reis won the cup two years ago, and tradition says that no one wins it twice. That tradition he hopes to break. Mr. Reis has already won two mafor racing events of the year, the National Sweepstakes at Montauk, L. I., and the Gold Cup Race in Detroit, which he won the same day Gar Wood kept America supreme in motor boat racing. Nobody has ever won all three of these major races in one year. Mr. Reis has won two of them and hopes to carry off the President's Cup Saturday afternoon with his El Lagarto. He is the son of W. E. Reis, who was president of the Shenango Valley Steel Company here. He is a brother of Jared M. B. Reis. Mr. Reis resides in Pasadena, California, in the winter and at Lake George, N. Y., in the summer. He has many relatives and friends in New Castle.

District Superintendent of Methodist Churches Will Move To Grove City

It is with regret that members and friends of the Methodist churches of the city learn that Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent, will leave New Castle the latter part of October to establish a residence in Grove City.

The territory under Dr. Farr's direction has been enlarged and now Grove City is the center of the district and the logical place for the superintendent's permanent residence.

Dr. Farr, as well as Mrs. Farr, have a host of friends in the city, not only among the Methodists, but among the various denominations, and the best wishes of these go with the Farris to their new home.

Dr. Farr, of course, will frequently visit the churches under his care here.

International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The stock market took on a better appearance today with gains in the pivotal issues running from fractions to more than a point.

Commodity markets also turned higher. Wheat and other grain prices were boosted from fractions to a cent a bushel, and cotton rallied 50 cents a bale on decided strength in Liverpool.

Oil shares were the prime factors in today's trading reflecting the boost in California crude oil prices. Standard of California jumped more than a point, and Consolidated Oil, Ohio Oil, and Standard of N. J. scored lesser gains.

The carrier shares including New York Central, Atchafalpa, Lackawanna, and Southern Railway also showed improved tone. General Motors and Chrysler were well bought with the latter rebounding more than a point from yesterday's close.

Gold mining shares were well bought with Alaska Juneau and United States Smelting the favorites. The utility shares pointed higher under the lead of Consolidated Gas.

United States Steel was improved and rose fractionally on short covering. Strength here aided the other steel shares including Bethlehem.

Among the higher price trading favorites Allied Chemical, Western Union, and Glanville were in demand and gained from fractions to nearly 2 points.

Ellwood High
Invades ButlerEllwood Out To Vindicate
Itself Against Heinzer Crew TomorrowClose Game Expected When
Two Rivals Meet Again
On Butler Gridiron

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 29.—Coach "Gazzy" Benedict completed his final drill today in preparation for the invasion of Butler Saturday afternoon by Ellwood City High. A light workout with calisthenics and signal drill concluded a strenuous week's program today.

A determined Ellwood City High eleven will visit Butler tomorrow in an effort to vindicate itself for the shelling it took at New Castle last week. Reminiscent of the time two years ago when an under dog Ellwood machine invaded Butler to stage a 61 yard march and a touchdown, the only score of the day, it is a hopeful Ellwood team that awaits game time.

Last year the Heinzer team came to this city and returned the compliment when Mintz, star quarterback broke away for an 80 yard run and a touchdown. He also kicked the extra point for a 7-0 victory. Tomorrow will break the tie and determine which team will lead in series.

Butler Is Strong
Coach Regis Heinzer has developed another powerful and dangerous combination this year to represent Butler High. With eight lettermen back on the team he is looking forward to a successful season. Butler had an auspicious start by trimming Mars High 20-0 two weeks ago and last Saturday nosed out Vandergrift 7-6 after a terrific struggle.

Heinzer especially has a deceptive, fast, and well trained backfield in Nabetsky at quarter, Sherman and Ballentine at half and Sandloop, fullback. Captain Don Sherman runs the team off halfback position. All backfield men are lettermen. Others on the team are Downing, right end, McNamee, left tackle, Josephs, center, and Chernitsky, backfield man. The remainder of the lineup is made up of Walker at end, Findley and Poynikiski at the guards.

Coach Heinzer scouted the Ellwood-New Castle game and stated to the writer that Ellwood was a plucky and hard fighting eleven. He expressed the opinion that they had a well conceived passing attack that should be feared anywhere. All week he has drilled his proteges against this.

Ellwood has added a few new plays to their repertoire in the past week which they hope to spring against the soapmashers Saturday. With the exception of Luxemburg, Ellwood's lineup tomorrow will practically be the same as last week. Because of a Jewish holiday, the local star fullback will be unable to play. Tony Scopellite has shown up fine in this position all week and is expected to start the game.

A large delegation of students and local fans is expected to make the trip to Butler tomorrow and watch the two well matched eleven's battle for supremacy.

The probable lineup for the game is as follows:

Government Doing All Within Power To Stop Kidnapings

In Case Of Kidnaping Citizens Asked To Call Washington, D. C., 7117

Dept. Of Justice Agents Doing Excellent Work In Rounding Them Up

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—In case of kidnaping call National 7117, Washington, D. C.

That is a special telephone at the department of justice for the specific purpose of receiving emergency calls pertaining to violations of the federal law.

An agent of the department is on duty 24 hours a day.

Where kidnapings are reported within less than an hour the special squad organized by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the division of investigation will have agents on the case.

"In order to successfully solve a kidnaping case we must have a quick report and cooperation of the family," Hoover said. "We must have evidence."

"There are two important factors in the enforcement of a law—the confidence of the public in our agents, and the fear of the underworld. Cooperation of the local authorities is essential that we may get results."

Highly Successful.

Hoover's men have been highly successful in kidnaping cases. Every case reported since the federal law, enacted as a result of the Lindbergh kidnaping, has been solved.

There were 15 cases solved since

June, 1932. Thirty persons are in custody as a result, 17 having been convicted with the others awaiting trial. Sentences have been passed aggregating 312 years, while one death penalty has been inflicted.

Hoover called attention to some of the more important of these cases. In the August Luer case—that of an Alton, Ill., man, the state court was selected for trial since there is a death penalty for kidnaping where, as the maximum penalty under federal law is life imprisonment. In this case six persons have been arrested and three fugitives still are sought.

In the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, 14 were arrested, the apprehension of George (Machine Gun) Kelly and Kathryn Thorne Kelly, his wife, at Memphis having completed the roundup. About $79,000 of the $200,000 ransom money paid has been recovered. Twelve defendants were placed on trial in the federal court.

One Death Sentence.

The Mary McElroy case at Kansas City, Walter N. McGee, one of the defendants, was sentenced to death in the state courts. The death sentence was passed 60 days after the kidnaping. Miss McElroy was the daughter of the city manager at Kansas City. Out of $30,000 ransom money paid the department and the police recovered $24,000.

In St. Paul the Tough Touhy gang of Chicago, headed by Roger Touhy, is under indictment and $100,000 bond for the kidnaping of William Hann, Jr., of St. Paul. The ransom paid in this case was $100,000.

"These facts prove that kidnaping is not a safe racket," Hoover said. "If by continuing effort we can put fear in the hearts of the kidnapers and extortionists these crimes may be reduced to a minimum."

"Any information received by the department on kidnaping will be treated in strict confidence."

GREENVILLE PLANS BIG CELEBRATION Greenville is planning one of the biggest celebrations in the history of the town, which will take place on October 12, in connection with the opening and dedication of Riverside Park.

Many interesting events are listed on the program for the day, and hundreds of people from the surrounding district are expected present on this occasion.
